Text: Micah 5:2-5

1. Where do you find yourself looking for security or hope when life feels uncertain or circumstances are beyond your control? How does Micah's promise of the coming Shepherd-King challenge where you place your confidence?

2. How do you remain faithful to God when your circumstances don't change and the restoration you long for hasn't come? What does continuing to pray, trust, and obey look like in your current season?

3. Is there an area of your life where you need to shift your hope away from temporary circumstances and toward the promises of Christ?

4. How should this tension between what Christ has already accomplished and what He will accomplish when He returns shape the way we respond to suffering, fear, and the brokenness of this world?

5. How does the certainty of Christ's return give you hope for the future?
