

The Mexico Mission

Happy Fall,

Thank you all from the bottom of our hearts for your prayers, financial support, encouragement, texts, and even just thinking about us. Being a missionary can be isolating, and lonely at times, but it is encouraging, and comforting when we hear from you, and know that you are praying for us.

July started off with a visitation, and funeral for Cade's great grandmother (Jean Withers), where we sang for both the funeral and the graveside. Then we had a flight back to Mexico on July 4th. The next week Judith was with the kids on Sunday, and then planned an event for the kids at Casa Hogar. We had 8 adults from our church go to share a message, play games, do a craft, music, and provide breakfast for the kids at the orphanage, and the kids from the community. There were about 20 kids present, and we had a great time. Casa Hogar is an orphanage about 20 minutes from the church, and we get the opportunity to go once a year to put on a one day "VBS" for them that Judith organizes. Cade did games with the older kids, and Judith took pictures and filled in where needed. Towards the end of July we received news that a women that no longer attends our church, but has family in our church was pregnant, and having severe seizures. She was having them every few minutes for several days in a row, and she was afraid it was affecting the baby, and also the medication she was needing to take is not advised while pregnant. We had a prayer meeting at her house with some members of the church to pray over her, and give words of encouragement. Thanks to God, she is moving along in her pregnancy, the baby is healthy, and she is not having those seizures anymore, and able to take medication.

August included a quick trip to Texas to visit family, pick up decorations and gifts for Mariana's baby shower that were shipped to Texas, we visited one of our supporting churches (Chisholm Trail church) to give an update, and Cade was able to preach. On our way back to Mexico we updated our VISA paperwork, and vehicle paperwork. We returned to Mexico on the 12, and celebrated at Mariana's baby shower on the 15th. Judith was able to organize, and decorated for the baby shower. It was a fun time of games, fellowship, food, a message, and lots of gifts. Thank you to those of you who bought gifts off of the Amazon list I posted on our Facebook page. On August 23rd, Cade preached out of Luke 15:11-32 on the prodigal son. His message on our need for restoration with God was very encouraging to all of us. The next day we headed to Parras, MX which is about 3 hours from our house, so that we could spend a few days away with Mariana, Heriberto, and Josué to relax, and rejuvenate. Heriberto is originally from Parras, so he was able to show us where he grew up, and different local spots that he enjoyed. The end of August also marked our one year of being here in Mexico; wow that went by quick!

September started off strong with communion the first Sunday of the month, which Cade helped with. Then on September 11th, Mariana had her baby girl, Mariam. She had a very difficult birth with several complications, which led to many issues the rest of the month including emergency surgery for her, a several night stay in the hospital for the baby with phototherapy for her jaundice, and other follow-up appointments after that. They were both fully able to go home as of September 20th, but still have appointments to check for damage of the baby's eyes, ears, and brain due to high bilirubin levels, and long exposure to the phototherapy lights while she was so little. Be in prayer for them, as they have an appointment on October 12th to check the baby's brain and ears. Her vision test came back clear, but they would like her to attend some rehabilitation, and check her vision again when she has her first bithday. Sunday, September 13th we celebrated Mexico's independence (actually on the 16th), with a party at the church that Judith planned, and both Judith and Cade decorated for. We had a great time celebrating together.

Please be in prayer this month, as we come up on Halloween. This year for our Somos Luz event (similar to a fall fest in the states), we won't be having it at the church. This year, we are having our event in the park where we did VBS back in March so that we can continue to minister to that community. We plan to have something similar to a trunk or treat, but with decorated tables since many people do not have vehicles. We will have games, candy, and food available. This is a way for us to shine our light in the dark world, and also invite people to our church!

Here is what we have been up to:

July 11: Casa Hogar breakfast event

July 29: Prayer meeting for Selene (woman who is pregnant)

July 30: Kids Leader Meeting (to discuss plans while Mariana is out with the baby)

August 3: Drive to Texas

August 9: Cade preaching/ Give an update at Chisholm Trail Church

August 12: Drive back to Mexico/ Renew paperwork

August 15: Mariana's Baby Shower (Judith organized/and decorated)

August 23: Cade Preached: Luke 15-11-32

August 24-28: Mini Vacation in Parras, MX with Mariana and Heriberto

September 6: Communion Sunday

September 13: Independece day party at the church (Judith Organized)

Chisholm Trail Church

We were asked to come share a report/update, and Cade was blessed to preach. So thankful for this loving/supporting church.

Casa Hogar:

This orphanage has a special place in our hearts, because these kids attend our church at El Vástago. We as a church have the opportunity to put on an event/breakfast for them once a year, which Judith organizes. This time we had 8 adults come to help from El Vástago.

Mariana's Baby Shower:

The theme was Cielito Lindo, and Judith was honored and blessed to organize, and decorate for this wonderful celebration. Her shower was on August 15th, and her sweet baby girl was born on September 11th weighing 6.6lbs.
