Table Talk

LIE DETECTOR PART 1

Discussion questions and conversation starters based on this weekend's sermon!

1. Have you ever felt like God was keeping something good from you? What was the situation?

2. What's something you were absolutely convinced you needed as a kid, your parents said no, and you now realize they were 100% right?

3. What's the difference between a boundary God sets and a rule that feels like punishment?

4. Have you ever talked yourself into a bad decision by listing three solid reasons it was actually fine?

5. Why do you think doubt is often the first move — before temptation even fully presents itself?

6. If the enemy is "the father of lies," what's the most obvious lie you've ever almost believed — like, embarrassingly obvious in hindsight?

7. How do you personally "go back to what God said" when you're being pulled toward something?

8. Be honest — have you ever Googled something hoping the internet would tell you it was okay?

9. What's a time when following God's instruction cost you something — and how did that turn out over time?

10. If you could go back and give past-you a five-second warning before a bad decision, what would you say?
