Table Talk

THE ONE THING THAT CHANGES EVERYTHING PART 6

Discussion questions and conversation starters based on this weekend's sermon!

1. The message said "prayer ceases where pride increases." What does that mean to you practically, and have you ever noticed that pattern in your own life?

2. When the pastor asked why there's so much drama in your life, what was your honest first answer — and was it a person's name?

3. What makes pride so hard to recognize in our own hearts?

4. Have you ever given an apology that had so many "buts" in it that it didn't really count as an apology?

5. Which characteristic of pride from Job 41 resonates most with you personally: hiding, spewing, being unbending, hardening, isolating, or suffocating?

6. What's the most creative way you've ever shifted blame for something that was clearly your fault?

7. What's the difference between submitting to God and just going through the motions of religious life?

8. What's a belief you hold about yourself that you're pretty sure is slightly more generous than reality?

9. What does it practically look like to "draw near to God" in a season where you feel far from him?

10. When was the last time you said "I'm sorry" and genuinely left it there without explaining why it was really the other person's fault?
