Compare Jesus' distress in verses 33–36 with His readiness to move forward in verses 41–42. What does this suggest about the purpose of prayer when difficult circumstances have not changed?

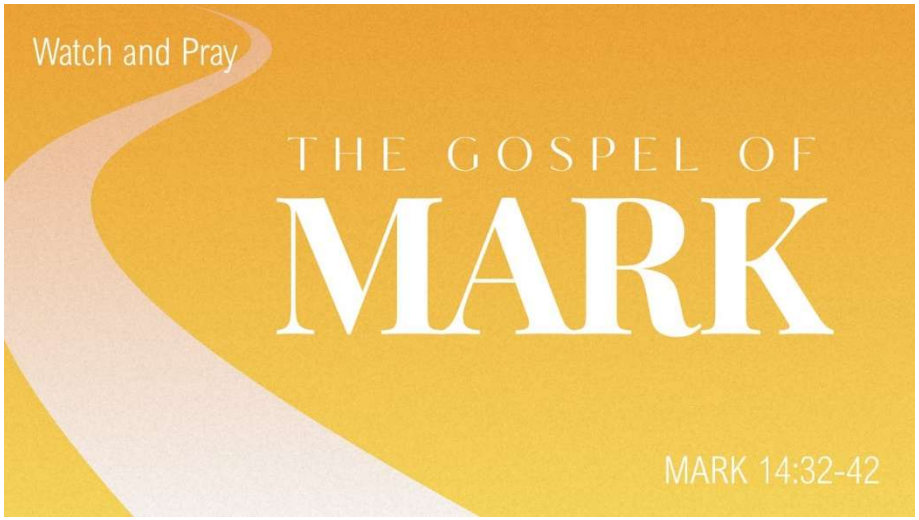
What is one specific step you can take this week to watch and pray more consistently?

Notes:

_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____

CALVARY
OXNARD

Sermon Discussion Questions for



Sunday, November 8, 2026

Discussion Questions:

What contrasts do you notice between how Jesus and the disciples respond to this difficult moment in Mark 14:32–42?

In verses 33–34, Jesus openly expresses His sorrow and asks His disciples to remain and watch. What does His example teach us about sharing our struggles and inviting others to support us in prayer?

Jesus addresses God as “Abba, Father” while experiencing deep distress (verse 36). How might knowing God as a loving Father shape the way we approach Him when life is painful or confusing?

The message highlights four elements of Jesus’ prayer: relationship with the Father, acknowledgment of His power, an honest request, and surrender to His will. Which comes most naturally to you, and which is most challenging? Why?

What might it look like for you to follow Jesus’ example by praying honestly without insisting on a preferred outcome?

In verse 38, Jesus connects watching and praying with resisting temptation. What might “watching” look like in everyday life, and how does prayer move us beyond relying on willpower alone?

Jesus says, “The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak” (verse 38). Where do you notice a gap between your spiritual intentions and your daily habits?

Verse 39 tells us that Jesus prayed again using the same words. How does His example encourage or challenge your approach to praying about an ongoing concern?