PRAYER: PETITION

WEEK 4 | DAYS 22 - 27 ABIDE QUESTIONS

DAY 22 (PAGE 26)

Are you seeking God's presence and allowing His Word to shape you, or are you primarily seeking His power to change your circumstances according to your desires? In what ways would your petitions change if you became more intentional about abiding in Christ and allowing His Word to guide your thoughts, choices, and desires?

DAY 23 (PAGE 27)

In what ways would your prayers change if you approached God not merely as the One who can meet your needs, but as your Father who knows, forgives, provides for, and faithfully leads you? For your prayers to reflect the priorities Jesus taught in this passage, what would you need to ask God for differently, and what would you need to surrender to Him?

DAY 24 (PAGE 28)

As you honestly examine your heart, is there an area of your life where discontentment with what God has provided is leading you to compare, covet, or quarrel with others? What desire do you need to surrender to God today, trusting Him to determine not only whether you receive it, but whether it is truly good for you?

DAY 25 (PAGE 29)

Do you approach God with your anxieties believing He genuinely cares about your struggles, or do you hesitate to bring Him concerns that seem too small, too complicated, or too overwhelming? Why or why not? In what ways might your prayers change if you more fully trusted that you do not have to carry your burdens alone because God cares for you?

DAY 26 (PAGE 30)

When you pray about the things that trouble you, are you willing to entrust them to God, or do you continue to dwell on them as though you must find the solution yourself? What burden do you need to surrender to God today, with thankfulness, trusting Him to guard your heart and mind with His peace even if He does not change your circumstances as you desire?

DAY 27 (PAGE 31)

When faced with uncertainty or a difficult decision, do you turn to God, ask for His wisdom, or do you primarily rely on your own understanding and judgment to find the way forward? What decision or situation are you facing today in which you need to humbly acknowledge your limitations and ask God for the wisdom to discern and follow what is right?
