Real people. Real faith. Real life.

Earlier this year, we asked if FBC Lawton was ready for Life Groups. The response was a pretty enthusiastic YES! Now, with summer behind us, we're ready to move from talking about Life Groups to actually launching them.

So, what exactly is a Life Group?
Life Groups are small gatherings designed to take Bible study, fellowship, prayer, and mission beyond the walls of the church and into everyday life. Groups will meet in homes, be led by peers, and have the flexibility to choose a schedule and rhythm that works for the people in the group.

Because real life doesn't always fit neatly into a Wednesday night time slot. A Life Group might gather around a kitchen table on Tuesday evenings, meet for breakfast on Saturday mornings, or get together twice a month after work. The details may look different from group to group, but the purpose remains the same: growing in faith while doing life together.

And now, we need you to help make it happen. There are three ways to find your place:
JOIN. You don't have to lead, teach, host, or have all the answers. You can simply show up, open God's Word, and build relationships with others.

LEAD. Help guide a group as you study Scripture, pray, serve, and grow together. You don't have to be a Bible scholar. We'll provide training and support along the way.

HOST. Open your home and create a welcoming place for a group to gather. You can host without being the group's leader.

Life Groups aren't another program to squeeze into an already crowded calendar. They're an opportunity to build meaningful Christian community within the life you're already living.

Real people. Real faith. Real life.
Life Groups are ready to launch. Now it's time to find your place.
