1. How does knowing that Jesus is fully God change the way you face seasons of uncertainty, fear, suffering, or circumstances that feel outside your control? Is there anything you are going through right now where knowing this helps you face the situation?

2. Jesus appeals to Scripture as authoritative and trustworthy. How does your attitude toward Scripture reveal whether you are willing to let God shape your thinking, even when His Word challenges your assumptions, desires, or decisions? What is one area where you need to submit more fully to what God says?

3. It is possible to acknowledge that Jesus is God without actually entrusting your life to Him. What does it look like in your current circumstances to entrust yourself to Jesus—not simply believe facts about Him, but trust Him, hear His voice, and follow Him? Is there an area of your life where you are struggling to do that?

4. As we wrap up John 10, how does knowing Jesus is our Good Shepherd—who knows us, laid down His life for us, and securely holds us—practically shape the way we face everyday life?
