A MESSAGE FROM THE ELDERS:

Are You Feeling Connected?

Church events are more than activities on a calendar; they are opportunities for us to grow together as a community of faith. When we participate, we bring our gifts, energy, and fellowship to the life of the congregation, helping create experiences that are meaningful for everyone and honoring the Lord.

We recognize that, for some, particularly those whose lives outside the church place high demands on their time and energy, an environment without expectations may be exactly what is needed for spiritual rest. At the same time, meaningful connection with others is an important part of our life together. When we participate in the life of the congregation, we have opportunities to build relationships, serve others, and experience the encouragement that comes from being part of a community of faith.

Events outside of scheduled worship assemblies provide wonderful opportunities to connect with one another, welcome new faces, and celebrate the faith we share. Consider taking advantage of these occasions by participating in and supporting one or more of our activities. When we get involved, our church becomes not simply a place we attend, but a community we actively build and share.

Participation might mean attending or volunteering at a community outreach project such as the Harvest Festival or the annual Christmas Program. It might mean joining one of the available fellowship groups—or perhaps starting a new one to meet an unmet need. It could also mean helping with preparations, lending a hand behind the scenes, or simply inviting a friend or neighbor to come along.

As we look forward to our upcoming events, we encourage each member to take part in whatever way feels appropriate. As Jeb recently suggested in a Bible study, we are connected with fellow believers through the work we do together in Christ our Lord.

Let's continue working together to strengthen those connections.
