

Make Room Leadership Update: Thank You and Next Steps

Make Room Leaders,

Thank you for joining us at the Leadership Launch Dinner. We are grateful for your leadership, your faithfulness, and your commitment to Impact Church.

As shared during the dinner, you'll receive updates approximately every other week via email and text message, including construction progress, frequently asked questions, prayer requests, and other important milestones as we move toward the public launch in February 2027.

How You Can Support the Campaign Today

Our primary request right now is simple: Please pray.

Pray for our church, our leadership, the building process, and for God's guidance as we take this next step together. We believe prayer is one of the most important ways you can support this journey in these early months.

How to Talk About the Leadership Launch Dinner

The vision we shared at the Leadership Launch Dinner is not a secret. We are excited to share it with our entire church family in February. Until then, we're simply being intentional about making sure everyone has the opportunity to hear the full vision together, receive the same information, and begin the journey at the same time.

Because of that, we encourage you to keep conversations focused on the excitement of what's ahead rather than the specific details shared during the dinner. As a reminder, many people at Impact have not yet heard the vision, and even the campaign name, Make Room, will be officially introduced to the church as part of the public launch in February. We want everyone to have the opportunity to experience that moment together.

If someone asks questions such as:

- "What's happening at Impact?"
- "Why did you go to the Leadership Launch Dinner?"
- "Are we building something new?"

A simple response could be:

"Yes, we're on a very exciting journey as a church. Pastor Jason will be sharing the full vision with our entire church family in February 2027, and we're looking forward to everyone experiencing it together."

At this stage, there's nothing we need you to give, commit to, or recruit others for. We simply want to invite you to pray with us and stay informed through these updates.

If you have questions, please email info@impactmycity.org. As appropriate, we'll incorporate common questions into future updates and FAQs so everyone can stay informed throughout the journey.

Thank you again for being part of this journey. We are excited to continue sharing updates with you in the weeks and months ahead as we Make Room for what God wants to do next.
