

Questions

1. What's a good memory you have of a meal with family and/or friends?
2. First Corinthians 11 that the congregation at Corinth was divided into cliques, with some having plenty of food and drink and others going hungry. In what ways can local churches today form cliques that separate brothers and sisters in Christ? How can you be proactive to make sure more people feel welcomed and are included?
3. Why was it especially hypocritical that selfish behavior was happening in connection with the Lord's Supper?
4. How does the Lord's Supper serve to remind us of our union with Christ and with our fellow believers?
5. In applying First Corinthians 11:28, how do you guard your own heart against cherishing sinful attitudes?
6. Why is it important that you are a regular participant in a local church's Lord's Supper remembrance?

In Remembrance of Me

1 Corinthians 11:17-34

First Corinthians 11:17-34 gives clear instruction on the meaning of the Lord's Supper. But it does so within a warning to believers that we can lose sight of the meaning of the Lord's Supper if we fail to recognize that the bread and the cup also represent one body of people who have been bonded into a community by our Savior's sacrifice.

A Stern Rebuke (11:17-22, 33-34)

Our Regular Need for Humble Self-Examination (11:27-32)

The Lord's Supper – Remember Christ's death that established the New Covenant (11:23-26)

Why the Rebuke Was Necessary (11:23-32)

The Lord's Supper commemorates the self-sacrifice of Jesus Christ.

Those who were sinning against brothers and sisters ran the risk of eating and drinking judgment upon themselves.
