Pastor Roy's Sermon on Hebrews 1:1-14
(October 21, 2026)
—Below are questions from that lesson to further our understanding—

1. The letter to the Hebrews was written to rouse believers out of complacency and compromise -- in what specific areas of your faith life have you settled for a superficial association with Christ rather than wholehearted commitment?
2. God spoke through the prophets in many times and many ways, but has now spoken definitively through His Son -- how does understanding the progression from partial revelation to the fullness of Christ change the way you read and apply the Old Testament?
3. Hebrews declares that Jesus is the exact imprint of God's nature and upholds the universe by the word of His power -- how does this truth reshape the way you think about Jesus during moments when life feels out of control or uncertain?
4. The sermon emphasizes that we are living in the last days from Christ forward, and that tomorrow is not guaranteed -- how does this urgency practically influence the way you share the gospel with those around you?
5. Philip Hughes describes Hebrews as 'a tonic for the spiritually debilitated' -- what spiritual disciplines or practices help you guard against the kind of lethargic complacency that this letter was written to correct?
6. The writer of Hebrews goes to great lengths to establish that Christ is superior to angels, which were highly revered in Jewish thought -- what modern beliefs, systems, or figures do people sometimes elevate to a place that competes with the supremacy of Christ?
7. Jesus is described as both the creator of all things and the one who holds all things together -- how does meditating on Christ as both creator and sustainer deepen your trust in Him during seasons of personal difficulty or global instability?
8. The sermon points out that after making purification for sins, Jesus sat down, signifying that His redemptive work was fully complete -- how does resting in the finished work of Christ free you from the temptation to earn or maintain your own salvation through effort?
9. God never addressed any angel as His Son, nor invited any angel to sit at His right hand -- what does this exclusive relationship between the Father and the Son reveal about the unique and personal nature of salvation offered through Jesus Christ?
10. Angels are described as ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation -- how does awareness of God's active, ongoing care for His people through both Scripture and unseen means strengthen your confidence in His faithfulness during trials?
