Pastor Roy's Study Questions on Isaiah 2:10-22 (November 8, 2026)

— Below are questions to help further our understanding of Sundays Sermon. —

1. Isaiah, Jesus in Matthew 24, and John in Revelation all describe similar end-times events despite writing centuries apart -- what does this consistency across Scripture tell us about the reliability and authority of God's Word?
2. The sermon describes people hiding in caves and rocks to escape God's wrath rather than crying out to Him for mercy -- what does this reveal about the hardness of the human heart, and what prevents people from turning to God even in their most desperate moments?
3. Pride is identified as one of the central sins that will bring people low in the Day of the Lord -- in what subtle ways does pride manifest in your own life, and how does it create distance between you and God?
4. The cedars of Lebanon and oaks of Bashan were symbols of greatness and strength in the ancient world -- what are the modern equivalents of these symbols, and how do we as a culture place our confidence in things that will ultimately fall?
5. The sermon draws a parallel between the Tower of Babel and the prideful structures and institutions people build today -- in what ways do you see humanity still attempting to 'make a name for itself' apart from God?
6. Idolatry is described not just as worshipping carved images but as anything that draws our attention and trust away from God -- what idols are most difficult for people in today's culture to recognize and surrender?
7. The sermon emphasizes that born-again believers are not destined for God's wrath, referencing 1 Thessalonians 5:9 -- how should the assurance of salvation shape the way Christians live and engage with the world during increasingly turbulent times?
8. Verse 22 calls us to stop placing our trust in mortal men, reminding us that human breath and plans are temporary -- how does this challenge the way we look to political leaders, influencers, or institutions for security and direction?
9. The sermon notes that even during the outpouring of God's wrath, people will shake their fists at God rather than repent -- what does this tell us about the urgency of sharing the gospel now, before that day arrives?
10. Proverbs 3:5-6 is cited as an antidote to the self-reliance and pride described throughout Isaiah 2 -- what does it practically look like to trust God with all your heart in a culture that constantly rewards self-sufficiency and independence?
