Definitions:

FFBC Nominating Committee: The nominating committee is the group tasked with the nomination of committee and ministry team members. These nominations are made in coordination with the pastoral staff and church congregation. It is their duty to ensure that the administrative and ministerial needs of the church are carried out by responsible, trustworthy, and qualified members that represent the various demographics of FFBC. The nominating committee may also recommend (though not exclusively) the creation or dissolution of committees or teams not specifically enumerated in the by-laws.

Committee: Committees are those groups within the church that serve through administration. Their duties of these groups are primarily related to policymaking, budget administration, stewardship of church property or assets, or other administrative functions.

- Rotating: To ensure fresh perspectives, transparency, and collaboration, all committees rotate on 3-year terms.
- Essential: Each group deemed a committee serves an essential function to the church in the stewardship of its assets, property, or priorities.
- Accountable: Committees' work is closely related to one another as they administrate the resources and priorities of the church. As such, they are accountable to one another in their related functions (e. g. all financial decisions are transparent to the stewardship committee) and to the church in conference.

Ministry Team: Ministry teams are teams whose role includes the direction, leadership, policies or planning of a ministry of the church. These teams are chosen by the nominating committee, and while rotating membership is encouraged, it is not required.

Serving Team: The Committee and Ministry Team Handbook is silent with regard to serving teams. Serving teams are those teams within the church, organized by either a committee, ministry team, deacons, or pastor/ministry staff member whose function is purely that of service. Examples include children's ministry volunteers, audio-visual team members, and church musicians. These teams are not selected by the nominating committee, but are volunteers chosen by a related pastor or they are internally governed (like WMU).

Officers: Individuals affirmed by the church to lead a certain ministry, ministry team, service team or who has a designated purpose. For example, Church Treasurer, Sunday School Director, or Leader of Women By Design.

Liaison (i.e. Assigned Pastor): Per the FFBC church by-laws, it is the responsibility of the Senior Pastor to assign a pastor as liaison member as advisor to each committee or ministry team. Each chairperson shall notify the pastoral team liaison of all meetings. Liaisons are assigned annually and may be changed at any time by the pastor. As such, they are not required to go into the Nominating Committee's report.
