"'Til It's Gone"

As kids, my sister and I loved to listen to music on road trips with our family. One of the songs we got a kick out of was "Big Yellow Taxi" by Joni Mitchell.

"They took all the trees, and put 'em in a tree museum
And they charged the people a dollar and a half to see them.
No, no, no.
Don't it always seem to go
That you don't know what you got 'til it's gone
They paved paradise and put up a parking lot"

We thought the idea of a "tree museum" sounded kind of funny, and we certainly didn't understand the earnestness of the message, but from time to time, I find myself singing it, reflecting on those timeless words, "you don't know what you got 'til it's gone."

During this season of Thanksgiving – literally, "giving thanks" – I try to focus in on the things that I'm thankful for. For my family, my friends, my faith, the comforts around me… and so much more! But one thing that never ceases to amaze me is how much gratitude I have for the things that are no longer part of my life anymore.

Sometimes, the absence is caused by something significant: loss of a loved one, for example. My dad passed away at the age of 66 in 2018, and my mom only six or seven years later at the age of 67. I miss them every day and give thanks for all that they were to me and to our family. I can truly say that I have a much deeper appreciation for their love and impact on my life now that I can't call and say "hi" each day, seek their advice, or spend holidays with them.

Don't it always seem to go that you don't know what you got 'til it's gone?

Other times, the absence can be chalked up to the mere changing of life's seasons. For the last couple of months, I've been in physical therapy trying to rehab my left arm after a year of dealing with Tennis Elbow (and I don't even play tennis!) After a few doctors' appointments, therapy, and even a simple procedure, my arm just isn't what it used to be. While I have never been a power lifter, I do miss the thoughtless ease of lifting things without pain or regret.

Don't it always seem to go that you don't know what you got 'til it's gone?

I could go on and on, and you could probably add your own examples of missing things even after they're gone. This is a very human experience, and one that is universal, I might add.

It's interesting, isn't it? Our acknowledgement that we don't fully understand or appreciate something until we don't have it is closely linked to gratitude! While I'd love to do a better job of appreciating what is right in front of me right now, I realize that I will likely miss some things. You see the truth of the song is this, sometimes, we don't realize how grateful we are until the thing we're grateful for...isn't with us anymore. And so, I want to face this hard truth head on and invite you to join me in an exercise. It's really not hard, and tennis elbow won't get in the way.

1. Take a moment to consider 5 things that you are thankful for that are no longer part of your life: (family members, abilities, places, experiences). Once you do, instead of just lamenting them, take time to express thanks to God that those things, people, places, and times were part of your life.
2. Next, name 5 things that you are thankful for that are part of your life right now. Again, think family, abilities, places, experiences, etc.). Similarly, give thanks to God for those current realities.
3. Finally, now that you're warmed up, name 5 things that you are thankful for as you envision the potential of your future, and give thanks to God for those hopeful eventualities. For example, I can imagine the possibility of having grandchildren one day. I am thankful to get to be at their T-Ball games! You get the idea?

You see, if we limit ourselves to only acknowledging the good things that have come and gone, we can miss out on the good things that God is doing right now. And, even then, if we stop at what is only right in front of us, we miss out on joining God's immense creative imagination for what can be.

As you try this exercise, perhaps it's something you want to do once a day, once a week, or just as you have the opportunity this season. My suspicion is that you will come to discover something: God is the God of yesterday, today, and tomorrow! And THAT, is some good news!

With gratitude,
Pastor Brian

Pastor's Pick!

Each month Pastor Brian offers his "Pastor's Pick" book recommendation. This book could be one that he is highlighting in his sermon series, one that goes with the current church season, or one that is just a good book to read. Hope you enjoy. The church will be purchasing a copy of each of Pastor's book picks for the church library. If you are interested in reading any of them, you are welcome to "check them out!" Previous Pastor's Picks can be found in the Church Library.

Gratitude Journal Challenge

Since Thanksgiving occurs in November, we typically take the time during this month to focus on Gratitude. KidsHealth.org defines gratitude as "the warm, happy feeling you get when you notice and appreciate the good things, big or small, in your life." I am challenging all of the kids in our congregation (youth can participate too) to complete a 25 day Gratitude Journal. I will pass these journals out on Sunday, November 1st during children's time. I will have extra copies available. At the end of the month, when your child's journal is completed, please have your child show me his/her completed journal in exchange for a special prize. Congregation, if you want to practice gratitude in your own gratitude journal please come see me. I will have adult gratitude journals available to print upon request, and I can give a special prize to you too!

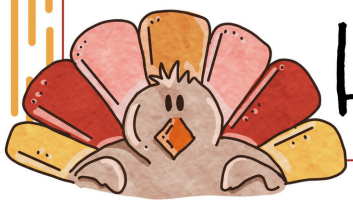

We are looking for volunteers to help in our Nursery during worship services. If you would be willing to help one Sunday a month or even to just be a substitute, Please contact Angela Campbell.

J.A.M. Sunday School children will be dismissed during worship, following the Sermon (or after Communion on the first Sunday of each month). There will be an announcement, and children can meet their teacher at the back of the Sanctuary by the double doors. Your teacher will be holding a sign so you can clearly identify them.

Calling all children and youth..... the annual Christmas program is coming next month!! Mark your calendars for Sunday, December 22 @ 4pm for our Annual Children's Christmas Program with dinner to follow. This year's program will be a little different. If you child/youth is interested in participating in the Christmas program this year, please email Angela Campbell at christian.education@grandblancumc.org or call the office at 810.694.9040. There will be 2 rehearsals in December, so check the connection and the announcements for more information.

GBUMC COMMUNITY OUTREACH & ENGAGEMENT

"LOVING Boldly, SERVING Joyfully, LEADING Courageously"

CHURCH & SOCIETY
OUR NEXT MEETING IS

NOVEMBER 28 @ 10 am
ALL ARE WELCOME

The Church and Society Team along with Community Outreach and Engagement would like to extend a big THANK YOU to Endowment for the purchase of 2 different sized wagons to use for community outings. We are committed to taking our message of love for all of God's people beyond the walls of our church. To do this, it takes a committed group of volunteers (which we always have) and supplies. The wagons will help us get the supplies (which sometimes include a table, chairs and a canopy) to our outreach destination. We currently have 5 major outings we do each year: Grand Blanc EXPO, Advocacy Day, Flint Pride, National Night Out and Mistletoe Market. If there are other community events you would like GBUMC to have a presence at, please reach out to Shelly Gould-Rice or Melinda Elmore-Hajek.

The Church and Society Team is adequately equipped and ready to go with loving hearts to exercise love, hope and grace to enrich all lives.

November is Native American Heritage Month, established nationally by President George H.W. Bush. Make an effort to not only learn about, but honor the contributions, traditions, history and the diverse cultures of the indigenous people.

CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS

INDIGENOUS PEOPLES

What does the Bible say?

So God created humankind in God's image, in the image of God, God created them; male and female. (Genesis 1:27)

What are human beings that you are mindful of them, mortals that you care for them? Yet you have made them a little lower than God, and crowned them with glory and honor. (Psalm 8:4-5)

But they shall sit under their own vines and under their own fig trees, and no one shall make them afraid, for the Lord of hosts has spoken. (Micah 4:4)

I am the vine and you are the branches. Those who abide in me and I in them bear much fruit, because apart from me you do nothing. (John 15:5)

What does the United Methodist Church Say?

Globalization threatens the human rights of indigenous peoples, including their aspirations for self-determination. Exploration and colonization have led to rapid appropriation of indigenous peoples' lands and natural resources, and the destruction of their sciences, ideas, arts, and cultures. (Resolution 2103. Globalization and it's Impact on Human Dignity and Human Rights, Section C: Indigenous Peoples: Toward Self-Determination)

We condemn all attempts to deny individuals their basic rights or freedoms or to strip human beings of their inherent dignity and worth...Addtionally, in the face of historic wrongs perpetrated against indigenous peoples, enslaved African peoples, and oter marginalized groups, we call for forthright confession and repentance as well as concrete acts of reparations to redress past and present forms of social injustice. (Social Principles, The Political Community, Section on Basic Rights and Freedoms)

We support the rights of indigenous, native, and aboriginal communities and affirm that like all people they must be afforded the basic rights set forth in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. We condemn acts of genocide against indigenous peoples and call for government treaties and contracts with native and aboriginal people to be honored and enforced. (The Political Community, Basic Rights and Freedoms, F., Indigenous, Native and Aboringinal Communities)

What do the facts say?

- As of July 1, 2022, the U.S. Census Bureau estimated that 4.3 million people identified as American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) alone, and 7.1 million identified as AI/AN alone or in combination with another race. (www.census.gov)
- In 2023, 23.5% of AI/AN adults aged 18-64 lacked health insurance coverage at the time of the interview. (www.cdc.gov)
- In 2022, only 16.8% of AI/AN individuals aged 25 or older had earned a bachelor's degree or higher, compared to the national average of 35.7% according to the Postsecondary National Policy Institute.

What do you say?

Take ACTION for justice...

- Stand in solidarity with Indigenous-led movements advocating for land rights, treaty enforcement, cultural preservation, and self-determination.
- Advocate and sign on to the Action Alert promoting the "Truth and Healing Commission on Indian Boarding School Policies Act in the U.S."
- Learn and teach the true histories and present realities of Indigenous peoples, including the Church's role in colonialism and assimilation policies.

FROM THE MANGER

The Free Pantry has doubled in size, is being utilized on a regular basis , is conveniently located outside the doors and is a 24/7 resource providing care and support for our neighbors. Thank you to Dan Carvill for assembling, to Isabella Briscoe for the beautiful paint job and for all of you who so generously share to make sure it is stocked up. We also hope to be able to provide free books, so if you have some that might need to find a new home, feel free to drop them off.

Some may have noticed that The Pantry is very busy these days. This is not hard to explain given the current financial climate. Hunger doesn't look a certain way, and we never know the hidden burdens our neighbors are carrying. If you see someone using the pantry, please offer them privacy and a warm smile. Let's keep Grand Blanc a judgmental-free zone where everyone feels safe getting the help they need.

Native American Ministries – Special Sunday – November 8, 2026

Through Native American Ministries Sunday, we're able to equip and empower Native American pastors, congregations and seminary students to authentically worship and serve Jesus. As a member of The United Methodist Church, your gift, on this day, equips Native congregations to worship and serve as only they can. This work, and hundreds of other ministries, are possible because you give. Native American Ministries Sunday is an UMCOR project in the United States

Our giving allows Native Americans to encounter, worship and serve Jesus. When you support Native American Ministries Sunday, you equip seminary students who will honor and celebrate Native American culture in their ministries. And you empower congregations that are finding fresh new ways to minister to their communities with the love of Christ. Please give generously to the Native American Ministries on Sunday November 8th. If you wish to donate online, please select Native American Ministries Sunday. THANK YOU!

2026 "Advent" and "In lieu of Poinsettias" Donations

This year we are supporting the UMCOR Global Migration project with the "Advent" offering (the pink envelope in your box). This project offers care, guidance, and support for refugees and migrants seeking shelter and solace. Please support this worthy project.

You can place the pink envelope in the offering plate at any time between now and Christmas. If you donate online, please designate Advent Offering.

For "In lieu of Poinsettias" this year we will be supporting the Samaritan Counseling Centers of Southeastern Michigan. The centers provide professional therapeutic counseling to all God's children seeking wholeness through emotional and spiritual growth. Offices located in seven United Methodist churches in southeastern Michigan.

The donation for "In lieu of Poinsettias" needs to be dropped off at the office with the form below by Sunday, December 13. We will not be ordering poinsettias this year but if you make a donation please designate in "memory of" or "honor of" using the form below and leave it with your check or cash in the GBUMC office. There is a folder on Cathy's desk to put it in. If you donate online, please notify the office of your "memory of" or "honor" of designation.

Please give generously in this joyful Christmas season. THANK YOU!!

Support Our Students

Youth will be collecting goods for SOS boxes to be sent in late November. We would appreciate any help you can give us in filling these boxes. A collection box will be located in the narthex during the month of November. Items to be sent in these boxes include food (snack bars, microwave popcorn, candy, Hot cocoa, gum, crackers, etc.), school supplies (pens, pencils, sticky notes, etc.) and personal supplies (little Kleenex packages, chap stick, etc). The boxes are 7" x 7" so we are just looking for small items. Thank you for your support of this important ministry.
