Sermon Listening Guide (November 22, 2026)

Scripture: Psalm 19
Sermon Title: "The Heavens Declare"

First Thoughts

At Thanksgiving, we think of the greatness of God.
We see his greatness through His creation, His Word, and His Son's work on the cross of Calvary.

God is Revealed in His Creation (Verses 1-6)

The initial six verses paint a picture of God's created order.
The created elements seem to give testimony to God's work in Psalm 19.
The days, nights, and celestial bodies pour out God's message.
Romans 1:18-22 reinforces the power of nature in God's self-revelation.
The glory of God is seen in his creation (General Revelation).
Thomas Carlyle said: "Wonder is the basis of worship."

God is Revealed in His Word (Verses 7-11)

God also reveals himself through His Word, and this is called "Special Revelation."
Nature may reveal much about God, but Scripture tells God's story.
Verses 7-9 reveal how perfect God's Word is.
His Word is trustworthy and brings joy.
Can you see these aspects of God in His Word?

Christ is the Ultimate Revelation

The Hebrew words "El" and "Jehovah" are used in Psalm 19 to describe God.
At Christmas, we use the name "Jesus" to describe God.
Through his life, we see how we should live.
Jesus is still speaking to us today.

Conclusion

God not only speaks to us today, but he is also listening.
How you worship, thank, and acknowledge him matters a lot.
