

Tales Schreiber

Posted August, 2026

Tales Schreiber was asked to leave the Hill City church in Springfield in July, 2026 for causing a disturbance. He then returned three weeks later and was arrested for trespass. He made comments about wanting to torture and watch people die. Up to this point he has not had a gun, but has said he goes to the range often. He has been diagnosed with Schizophrenia and has been banned from several properties in Springfield including MSU. If you see this person, alert your team and approach him as a group. Ideally we will stop him before entering the Worship Center, but if he is in there, ask him to come to the lobby and then tell him to leave from there. If he refuses, call 911. We will be asking him to leave the church and he is not welcome on the property. Below are pictures of Schreiber and his motorcycle.

Daniel (last name unknown)

Posted August, 2026

Daniel has attended Fellowship several times in August (2026) and has sat on the second row with unusual fidgeting and actions. He behaves oddly and is probably on the autism scale. Several people on staff have talked with him and Clayton and Ryan know him from 2nd Baptist. He does not appear to be a problem and is welcome to attend. We should be aware and keep a casual eye but not be overly concerned. If his actions become too distracting, we can have staff visit with him about sitting somewhere else in the Worship Center to minimize disruption.

John Sherman (Ten Bibles)

This person is an odd actor. There is no problem recognizing him from his behavior. He will be carrying 8 to 10 large books and will often sit in the lobby for most or all of the service and highlight in his bible. He usually wears western styled clothes, boots, and hat. He has been known to wear a full-length leather coat/duster. Once he waited until there was 10 minutes left in the service and walked down to the front row and sat down. This caused a lot of concern and it discussed that with him that he disrupted the service and that several people left the service to contact security. He did not seem concerned with this. His story he told to me is that he is homeless, lives in his car, and travels to evangelize the gospel. The vehicles he drives to church seem to contradict that statement. June 4, 2023 he drove a new looking white cross over SUV. On another occasion he drove the Mustang pictured.

He is currently welcome to attend but needs to be monitored closely when in the building. If you believe he is armed, contact me via radio or text 417-860-0762. If goes into service late and goes to the front again, a security member should follow him down and sit close by.

Philip Rosenau

We received the information below from an area church. Please be on the lookout for this person and if you see him, let me know. The plan would be to get him outside the church and determine if he is armed in a friendly but firm manner.

During Sunday School a man came into the church and sat in the back. He was wearing a black trench coat and a black hood. Troy talked to the guy and he just mumbled. As people started coming into the church, Troy was able to get the guy outside. He asked the fellow if he was carrying firearms and the guy said "yes". The guy went to his car and apparently had 3 weapons. The guy then drove off. They got his license plate and called the sheriff. The guy was gone by the time the sheriff arrived. The man's name is Philip Rosenau. Troy asked how he found his church and the fellow said he visits a different church every Sunday. Rosenau was last seen operating a Silver, 2016, Ford, Escape, B0X6

Dean and Dennis Johnson are twin brothers that describe themselves as Messianic Jews, which means they believe Jesus is the Son of God while they also observe traditional Jewish holidays like Passover and Rosh Hashanah.

Apparently, they were in Branson, MO February 2, 2020 and attempted to disrupt services at the Bloom church and possibly other churches in the area. No violence, just blowing the horns they carry.

Midnight Dolan

Keep an eye out for this person. If at the church, notify your team members and head of security. This issue is potential stalking of a female church member. One security member should be seated relatively close to him and stay in contact following the service. No known risk of violence, just won't take no for an answer. Will Worsham had lunch with him following the event.
