

THE ANATOMY OF THE WOUND

BEYOND THE SURFACE. BEFORE THE HEALING.

THE SCAB (THE PROTECTIVE LAYER)

Bitterness • Resentment •
Self-Righteousness

A protective attitude that covers the pain because the area is still sensitive. Describe your external behavior.

THE EVENT (THE INJURY)

What happened to you?

The moment, the words, the actions,
the betrayal, the loss, or the injustice that caused the wound.

EMOTIONS (THE PAIN)

How does this make you feel?

Emotions aren't bad—they are indicators. They point to something beneath the surface that needs attention and healing.

COPING (THE RESPONSE)

How have you coped with these feelings?

The ways you've tried to deal with the pain in order to survive, protect yourself, or feel some control.

FEAR (THE THREAT)

What are you afraid of?

The fears and worries that surface
when you think about it happening again or the pain continuing.

IDENTITY IMPACT (THE LABEL)

How do these feelings name you?

The conclusions you've drawn about yourself because of what happened and how it still affects the way you see you.

CORE: LIE / FALSE IDENTITY

We believe the Lie / False Identity because our worldview is tied to
"I'm not enough / there's not enough," which causes a search for certainty and a desire for perfection and self protection / self promotion.

THERE I AM.

(False I Am Statements)

YOU ARE NOT WHAT HAPPENED.
YOU ARE WHO GOD SAYS YOU ARE.

2 CORINTHIANS 5:17

JESUS CAME TO HEAL THE WOUND, BREAK THE LIE, AND RESTORE YOUR TRUE IDENTITY.
