Family,

"Enlarge the place of your tent... do not hold back; lengthen your cords and strengthen your stakes." (Isaiah 54:2)

That verse has been sitting with me as I pray over 2027. God told His people to make room before the growth ever showed up. I believe He is saying the same thing to us.

Since 1944, the AECC has been a tent for ministers. Security with liberty. A place to be covered and a place to be sent. That has not changed. But I believe the tent is about to get bigger.

Here is what I see. I see a fellowship where no minister serves alone. I see pastors of small churches with someone to call. I see missionaries sent well, prayed for by name, and never forgotten. I see a new generation of ministers finding a home here, and the generation before them cheering them on.

That takes two things.

Stronger stakes. A tent only stretches as far as its stakes can hold. So we are going deeper with the people already in this family. More prayer. More encouragement. More practical help. Your membership should feel like a family, not a certificate.

Longer cords. There are ministers and missionaries out there serving with no covering and no community. We are going after them.

Nobody stretches a tent alone. Ephesians 4:16 says the body grows when each part is working properly, and I get to serve with a board that lives that out. Jeannie, Pastor Renn, Matt, Will, Valerie, and Jessica carry this family faithfully.

I am also glad to introduce two new voices at the table. Dr. Apostle Olabisi Ajayi is joining us to help lead missions, staying close to the missionaries we have and raising up the ones still to come. Pastor Juan is joining us to focus on people, welcoming new members and finding the ministers who belong in this tent but have not found it yet. Longer cords need more hands, and God has sent them.

Here is my ask. Renew. Bring one minister with you. Pray for our missionaries by name. And show up, because family only works when we are in the room.

God said do not hold back. So we won't.

Let's make room,
Jovan

Aps. Jovan Ramos, President

*"Write the vision and make it plain so those who read it can run." -
Habakkuk 2:2*

To all of our beloved ministers,

As we enter this season of renewal, I want to take a moment to encourage you: press on.

Paul writes in Philippians 3:13-14, "Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

There is something powerful about those words for us in this season. Pressing forward does not mean forgetting the foundation that brought us here. It means honoring it while faithfully stepping into what God has ahead.

We are entering a new era for the AECC, one that honors the work, sacrifice, vision, and legacy that have been laid before us through both the AECC and AEBC. We are grateful for those who labored before us, and we believe the best way to honor that legacy is to continue building upon it and serving the ministers who are carrying the call today.

For those of us on the Board, our heart is to support and serve you. We are working toward new resources and opportunities designed to strengthen and encourage ministers in the work they have been called to do. We also want greater communication and connection among our members.

Our new President and I want you to know that we are available to you! We want to hear from you, pray with you, celebrate with you, and understand how we can better serve you. We are already seeing this connection grow through our AECC Facebook group, where members are sharing prayer requests, church notes, ministry updates, and praise reports. These may seem like simple things, but they remind us that none of us are walking this calling alone.

And there are more ways for you to become involved. As we move forward, we are looking for members who would like to help carry the legacy of the AECC into the future, including opportunities to serve as Regional Directors and in other areas of ministry and member support. If you have expertise in a specific field that you think could benefit our members, please share that with us. Also, if there are people in your sphere of influence looking to step into ministry, encourage them to do so with us. The AEBC is an amazing college to help equip all who are looking to take that step.

We know the work can be difficult. We know ministry can be costly. And we know that in a time when many are choosing to step away or throw in the towel, continuing to answer the call requires perseverance. So let me remind you today: We see you. We value you. We appreciate your faithfulness. And we are here to champion you!

Your membership is more than a credential or an affiliation. It is an opportunity to remain connected to a body of ministers who are committed to serving Christ and one another.

So, beloved ministers, keep pressing on. There is still work to do. There are still people to reach. There are still lives to impact. And there is still a legacy to carry forward. May we, like Paul, refuse to become so focused on what is behind us that we fail to reach for what is ahead.

"I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 3:14)

With love and gratitude for all you do for the Kingdom,

Jeannie Ortega Law
Vice President, AECC

Dear Ministers, I am so excited for where the AECC is headed for the future! In this prior season I was so honored and privileged to have served in the role of President and now I am so grateful to serve in a supportive role to assist with the institution going to new heights. Under our new leadership I am more than confident that we will continue to go from glory to glory as the Lord leads! Overall as Secretary I will continue to secure our State and Federal Compliance in regards to our record keeping and 501c3 Non-Profit status. Welcome to Our New Board Members!

Pastor Juan Martinez Membership & Recruiting Director

Pastor Juan Martinez and his beautiful wife, Katelynn, just celebrated 19 years of marriage. They have four children: Malachi (17), Elliani (14), Zoe (11), and Daniella (1). They have served in ministry as a family in Oklahoma City, OK; Cincinnati, OH; Chicago, IL; and New York City, where they spent the last five years before moving to Kansas City, MO.

Their experience includes youth and young adult ministry, launching leadership colleges, executive pastoral ministry, and lead pastoring. Much of their work has focused on helping churches through seasons of transition and starting ministries that make a real community impact.

Juan is excited to get to know the ministers in our network and to be a resource for those in need.

Dr. Apostle Olabisi Ajayi, Missions Director

Please join us in welcoming Dr. Apostle Olabisi Ajayi as our new Missions Director!

Dr. Apostle Olabisi Ajayi is the founder of Glorious Women of Faith International, a ministry under the umbrella of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. With over twenty-three years of ministry experience, she has faithfully served the body of Christ as a spiritual mother, mentor, and marriage counselor. God has used her and her ministry to empower women and to foster divine connections that strengthen leaders for lasting impact. She is passionate about spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ and about involving more ministers in the work of the American Evangelical Christian Churches.

*"I will lift up my eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth."
Psalm 121:1-2 KJV*

Investing in the Vision

Hello, AECC family! People support vision more readily when they understand it. So rather than simply talking about finances, I want to share a vision of stewardship, sustainability, and investment in the future.

Our goal is not simply to maintain the AECC from year to year. It is to build an organization that is financially healthy, focused on ministry, and positioned to serve generations to come. Training, technology, outreach, and leadership development all require resources, and we are committed to managing what has been entrusted to us with integrity, accountability, and purpose.

A New Approach to Membership: Moving forward, membership renewal will transition to a monthly contribution for all new members. Current members may continue to renew with the $100 annual option or choose the monthly plan. Either way, we invite you to see it differently. The question is not "What am I paying each month?" but "What am I helping build each month?"

Expanding Member Benefits

As part of this renewed vision, the AECC will offer practical workshops and training in:

- Worship Ministry
- Reaching the Next Generation
- Artificial Intelligence and Technology in the Church
- Discipleship and Vision Casting
- Church Budgeting and Financial Management
- Leadership Development

Stronger members create stronger ministries, and stronger ministries create a stronger AECC. We are building for the next 100 years, not simply consuming what previous generations built, but building upon it for those who follow.

If we believe in the vision, we must be willing to invest in the vision. Don't see membership as a cost. See it as an investment in your ministry, our shared mission, and the future of the AECC.

With gratitude,
Evg. Matt Wild, Treasurer

A Fall Update from Our Chancellor

This has been a season of growth and renewal for the AEBC. For nearly 30 years, the College and Seminary has equipped men and women for the work God has called them to do, and this year we refreshed our vision and mission while keeping the core of what the AEBC has always stood for. Every certificate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral course was reviewed, and all course materials were revised, updated, and digitized so students have modern tools in a world shaped by technology and AI. We also moved to Subsplash, which now holds our student records, informational pages, course catalog, and applications in one place. At the National Religious Broadcasters convention in Dallas, we introduced the AEBC to future students and met potential partners for the years ahead. Our purpose has not changed: to give those who are called the sound Christian education and proper credentials they need to sustain their mission. Credentials open doors that would otherwise stay shut, from hospital rooms and jail cells to communities recovering from natural disasters.

YEARS

THANK YOU

Thank you to each and every one of our AECC members and friends who joined us online and in person for our Biennial Conference. It was truly a wonderful time of fellowship, encouragement, worship, and connection as we gathered together as one body in Christ. Congratulations again to our graduates and newly licensed and ordained ministers. We celebrate what the Lord is doing in and through each of you and pray His continued blessing over the call He has placed upon your lives.

Congratulations to our 2026 graduates!

Evg. Jeannie Ortega Law, Ps. Sarah Wild, Dr. Apostle Olabisi Ajayi, Rev. Suzy Duarte

We honor your faithfulness to the Lord, your commitment to the work He has called you to, and the unique ways you serve your churches and communities.

We honor what He has done while looking forward with great expectation to what He will do next.

MOMENTS FROM ORLANDO

BIENNIAL CONFERENCE 2026

As we mark this important transition, we also want to take a moment to honor and express our heartfelt gratitude to our outgoing President, Rev. Dr. Renn Law. We are deeply thankful for his years of faithful leadership, sacrifice, perseverance, and service to the AECC.

His commitment to this ministry and to the call of God has helped carry the AECC through significant seasons, and we honor the time, prayer, wisdom, and dedication he has poured into this body. We pray the Lord richly blesses him as he enters the next season God has prepared for him.

At the same time, we joyfully congratulate and welcome Apostle Jovan Ramos as the new President of the AECC. We are excited to stand alongside him in prayer and unity as he steps into this role and leads the AECC into its next chapter. May the Lord grant him wisdom, discernment, strength, and grace for all that lies ahead.

As we enter this new season together, we invite you to watch this encouragement from Apostle Jovan Ramos as he shares his heart with the AECC. We are grateful for the Lord's continued direction and leadership over this ministry and look forward to moving forward together in unity, prayer, and expectation for all He has in store.

AFRICAN MISSIONS

Taking the Gospel Beyond Our Borders

The vision of the AECC does not stop at the walls of our churches or at the borders of our nation. The Great Commission calls us to "go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mark 16:15).

Through the AECC Missions Department, we have the privilege of taking part in that mission around the world. Here are some of the missionaries and ministries we are connected with, supporting, and praying for, along with the doors we believe God is opening next.

Canaan Land, African Missions for Christ
This is their campus in Malawi. Members called to missions are invited to join them!

Watch the update here

Malawi: African Missions for Christ

We are connected with Rev. Russell and Rev. Theresa McElroy, who serve through African Missions for Christ in Malawi, where the work continues to grow. Through school feeding visits, the ministry serves rice and bean meals to thousands of students. Twice a year it ships school supplies, soap, towels, and toiletries to families in need.

The ministry is now raising funds to finish the building for Radio Station J77.7 and buy its broadcasting equipment. Once complete, the station will carry the Gospel across the nation.

How you can help:

- Give: donate toward food, sponsor a school, or support the radio station.
- Serve: volunteers are needed in areas such as radio and telecommunications, photography, web design, accounting, and farming.
- Go: 2026 mission trips: November and December dates to be announced. Groups of four or more are welcome, including youth, medical and dental teams, and families.
- Pray: for the McElroys and the people of Malawi.

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek." (Isaiah 61:1)
To get involved, visit africanmissionsforchrist.net or call 407-914-4090.

INDIA MISSIONS

Our missions reach into Southern India, where we have several ministry connections.

Sundaram Prayer House, Tamil Nadu: Dr. Hannah's son, Pastor Thomas Ranjan, leads this local church.

Sanctuary of the Living Springs, Tamil Nadu: Dr. Hannah Nesamani Solomon operates an orphanage and nursing home, caring for the vulnerable through shelter, practical care, and compassion (James 1:27).

Watch the Update!

GRENADA MISSIONS

In Mount Moritz, Grenada, West Indies, we are supporting the local church led by Pastor Cephas Belfon.

We want to come alongside Pastor Belfon and the church in Mount Moritz to help strengthen the work of the Kingdom in Grenada and throughout the Caribbean.

WHERE ARE WE GOING NEXT?

We are exploring future partnerships in Haiti, Thailand, and Sierra Leone. Please begin or continue supporting the work of our missionaries. In this next season, we believe the AECC can expand its missions efforts, not only in how many countries we reach, but in how deeply we invest in the people and ministries God has connected us with.

"Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." (Acts 1:8) Let us keep praying, giving, sending, partnering, and going. The mission is not finished.

WHY THE AECC?

Since 1944, the American Evangelical Christian Churches has been a home for ministers: security with liberty, a place to be covered and a place to be sent.

When you join the AECC, you become part of a family that offers:

- Licensing and ordination credentials that open doors in hospitals, jails, and times of disaster
- A fellowship of ministers who pray for you by name
- Access to the AECC College & Seminary
- Practical workshops and training for today's ministry
- Missions partnerships around the world
- Regional Directors and leaders you can call

SHARE THE MISSION

Do you know a pastor, chaplain, missionary, or minister serving without covering or community? The AECC may be the home they have been praying for. Our President has asked each of us to bring one minister with us this year. Pass this magazine along, share our posts, or send them our way.

Refer one minister who completes an application and we'll credit you 50% off your renewal that year. Refer two and it's 75%. Refer three or more and your membership is free for that year. This isn't a one time thing either. It stands every year. All we ask is that you let us know who you sent. Honestly, we'd rather receive one leader you can vouch for than a hundred strangers we've never met. "Guard the good deposit that was entrusted to you" (2 Timothy 1:14). What God is doing among us is worth protecting, and He put that in the hands of leaders like you. - Pres. Aps. Jovan Ramos

Do Not Pour Into an Empty Cup

By Evg. William Rameau, Pastoral Care Director

*"Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest."
Matthew 11:28 (NIV)*

Ministry is a beautiful calling, but it can also be demanding. We preach, teach, pray, counsel, visit, encourage, organize, lead, serve, and carry the burdens of others. Sometimes we become so focused on helping everyone else that we forget that we are people who need care too.

Jesus never told His disciples that they had to serve continuously without rest. There were moments when He intentionally pulled them away from the crowds so they could rest: "Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest" (Mark 6:31, NIV). That is a powerful reminder for every minister, leader, volunteer, and member of the Body of Christ. Rest is not quitting. Rest is not weakness. Rest can be an act of obedience.

1. You Cannot Pour Out Without Being Filled

A pitcher cannot continually pour water without eventually becoming empty. The same can happen spiritually. We can spend so much time praying for others that we neglect our own prayer life. We can encourage everyone else while privately struggling to encourage ourselves. We can preach faith while personally needing someone to remind us that God is still faithful.

That is why our relationship with God must come before our responsibilities for God. Jesus said, "Abide in me, and I in you" (John 15:4). Before we are ministers, we are disciples. Before we are leaders, we are followers of Christ. Before we care for the flock, we must allow the Good Shepherd to care for us.

2. Recognize the Signs of an Overloaded Season

Sometimes the answer is not "work harder." Sometimes the answer is: Pause. Pray. Rest. Reconnect. Pay attention when you find yourself constantly exhausted, isolated, discouraged, unusually frustrated, spiritually dry, or unable to enjoy the ministry you once loved. These moments should not automatically be interpreted as failure. They may be an invitation to slow down and allow God to restore you.

Psalm 23 reminds us that the Shepherd makes His people lie down in green pastures, leads them beside still waters, and restores their souls. Restoration is part of the Shepherd's work. You do not have to restore yourself.

3. Do Not Suffer Alone

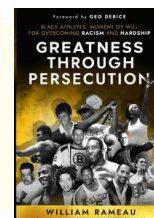

One of the greatest dangers in ministry is isolation. We sometimes believe that because we are leaders, we must always have the answers. But Scripture gives us a different picture: "Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ" (Galatians 6:2, NIV). The Body of Christ is designed for mutual care. If you are hurting, discouraged, in need of prayer, or celebrating a victory, reach out. If you are walking through a difficult ministry season, you do not have to walk through it alone.

4. Fellowship Is Part of Our Strength

Hebrews 10:24-25 reminds believers not to give up meeting together but to encourage one another. There is something powerful about praying together, worshipping together, studying Scripture together, and simply knowing that somebody else is walking beside you. Sometimes what you need is not another sermon. Sometimes you simply need another believer to say, "I'm praying for you. Keep going. God has not forgotten you." That is pastoral care. That is fellowship. That is the Body of Christ functioning as the Body.

5. Prayer Is Our First Response

When ministry becomes demanding, our first response should not be panic. It should be prayer. Philippians 4:6-7 reminds us to bring our requests before God with prayer and thanksgiving, trusting Him with what we cannot control. Ministers should pray for their members. Members should pray for their ministers. Churches should pray for their pastors. Leaders should pray for one another. And all of us should continually pray for the AECC, its churches, its leaders, its educational ministries, missionaries, families, and the people God has called us to reach. A praying church is a caring church.

A Practical Ministry Check-Up

Take a few minutes this week and honestly ask yourself:

- 1. How is my relationship with God right now?
- 2. Am I serving from spiritual overflow or emotional exhaustion?
- 3. Have I made time for genuine rest?
- 4. Who can I talk to when I am struggling?
- 5. When was the last time I allowed someone else to pray for me?
- 6. Am I staying connected to Christian fellowship?
- 7. Is there someone God is calling me to encourage this week?

Don't be afraid of honest answers. God can work with honesty.

When You Need Pastoral Care or Prayer

If you are in a difficult season, need prayer, have a ministry concern, or simply need someone to know what you are walking through, reach out to your pastor, ministry leader, Regional Director, or the AECC leadership team. You can also share milestones, celebrations, sickness, struggles, or losses through our member resources so the AECC family can know and respond.

Email: info@aeccministries.com
Phone: (317) 282-0156

You are not a burden because you need prayer. You are not less spiritual because you need encouragement. You are not failing because you need rest. And you do not have to carry every burden by yourself.

This Week: Pray. Connect. Rest.

Don't just ask, "Who needs my help?" Also ask, "Who can help me?" Then PRAY: spend intentional time with God. CONNECT: reach out to another believer or ministry leader. REST: give yourself permission to slow down and receive God's restoration.

You were called to serve, but you were also called to abide. The same God who called you to pour out is the God who promises to pour into you.

"My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." 2 Corinthians 12:9 (NIV)

Heavenly Father,

We thank You for every pastor, minister, chaplain, missionary, leader, volunteer, student, family, and member connected to the AECC.

Strengthen those who are tired. Encourage those who are discouraged. Comfort those who are grieving. Restore those who feel spiritually empty. Give wisdom to those carrying difficult leadership responsibilities. Give courage to those facing challenging ministry assignments.

Help us remember that we are not called to carry everything by ourselves. Teach us to pray for one another, to listen to one another, and to encourage one another. Teach us to rest when we need rest and to serve when You call us to serve.

Protect our ministers and their families. Strengthen our churches. Bless AECC students and faculty. Guide those discerning their call to ministry. Help the AECC continue to equip leaders, strengthen churches, reach the lost, and advance the Kingdom of God.

Most importantly, keep our eyes fixed on Jesus. When we are tired, remind us that You are our strength. When we are uncertain, remind us that You are our guide. When we are discouraged, remind us that You are with us. And when we feel alone, remind us that we are part of the Body of Christ.

In the mighty name of Jesus Christ, Amen.

We are seeking devotions from our AECC membership that we can reproduce in a book, place on the website and on the AECC app. This is a great opportunity to share with other members of your denomination! For the sake of uniformity, we are asking for members to initially submit one to three devotions, consisting of 250 to 300 words each, give or take a few, not including the scripture verse. The format we are suggesting is a scripture, the devotion, and then concluding with a thought-provoking question or challenge to action.

Please include your name so that we can give you credit and also your contact information in the event we have a question. Each of these will be reviewed and added to our collection so that we can hopefully produce a nice book that will be made available to AECC membership and to others. The AECC reserves the right to edit all submissions. Please submit your devotions to ministriesaecc@gmail.com or use the form via the link provided. If sending an email: please put in the subject line “devotion submission” to help identify devotions. We look forward to hearing from you as you allow the Holy Spirit to guide you in sharing a few words with us.
