

Lesson 5

Questions

Directions: You need to answer 3 questions from 1-5. Please number your answers on your submission with the same number as below

1. Does it make sense to say that a statement or belief is true for a particular person? Can a truth be simply subjective? Give some examples and explain what significance to give to the above expression “is true for.”
2. If a belief makes a person happier and more secure, does that make it true?
3. If there were facts, what would they be?
4. Are you the same person you were prior to reading this?
5. Do you agree or disagree with Bertrand Russell’s statement: “Better the world should perish than I or any other human being should believe a lie”? Discuss. Is truth all that important?
