

Mike Maravas Deacon Candidate

I was raised in the Greek Orthodox church. While our family attended on a somewhat regular basis the adherence to the churches traditions never seemed to have a place in the rest of my life. I started thinking about God, or better yet God started getting my attention around age 18. I began attending a nondenominational bible believing church a couple years later and there understood I was a sinner, needed to repent, and that Christ had paid the penalty for my sins. At 23 I was baptized and started my new life in Christ. I've been attending Centreville Baptist Church for 22 plus years after moving to Centreville. I have served as a deacon for the past three years and am willing to serve another three years.
