DR. DAVID L. EADIE, SR.

Dr. David L. Eadie, Sr. is a pastor, educator, author, theologian, and apologist whose work explores the intersection of faith, reason, and culture. He serves as the Lead Pastor of Victory Point in Springfield, Massachusetts, and as a High School English teacher at the Springfield High School of Science and Technology. Across both the pulpit and the classroom, he is passionate about helping people think critically, communicate effectively, engage culture thoughtfully, and pursue truth with conviction and compassion. He also hosts the weekly Victory U Podcast, where he brings theology into conversation with the questions, ideas, and cultural issues shaping everyday life.

Dr. Eadie holds a Bachelor of Liberal Studies from the University of Maine at Presque Isle, a Master of Arts in Apologetics and Evangelism from Dallas Theological Seminary, and a Doctor of Ministry in Theology and Apologetics from Liberty University. He is the author of Cultural Apologetics: Living at the Crossroads of Faith, Reason, and Culture, a work that equips Christians to thoughtfully engage contemporary questions of meaning, purpose, identity, and belief while faithfully communicating the Gospel in an increasingly complex culture.

Through The Victory U Podcast, his writing, teaching, and broader ministry, Dr. Eadie creates space for thoughtful questions, theological depth, and practical faith. His approach brings inspiration and information together—combining biblical scholarship, cultural awareness, critical thinking, and practical application to make theological truth accessible without sacrificing its substance.

Dr. Eadie and his wife, India, have been married since 2010 and are the proud parents of two sons, David Jr. and Dawson Luke. Whether preaching, teaching, writing, podcasting, or engaging culture, his work is driven by a simple conviction: truth should transform how we think, how we live, and how we love.
