The Game of LIFE

A family of four is gathered around a wooden table, playing the board game 'The Ups & Downs of Life'. The game board is a circular track with various life events as spaces, including 'Graduation', 'Promotion', 'New Grandchild', 'Sudden Expense', 'Loss', 'Retirement', 'New Grandchild', 'Family Reunion', 'Illness', 'Wedding', and 'Big Career Win'. Each space is illustrated with a scene and contains small figurines representing people and objects like cars, dice, and money. The family members, including a young girl, a woman, a man, and an older man, are looking at the board and interacting with the game pieces. The game box is visible in the bottom right corner, showing the title 'The Ups & Downs of Life' and the Hasbro logo. The overall atmosphere is one of family fun and shared activity.

You can't always choose what happens.

A group of people are gathered around a table, playing the board game 'The Game of Life'. The game board is a winding path with various life events and challenges. In the center, a miniature figure of an elderly man lies in a hospital bed, with a red heart icon above him. To the left, a miniature figure of a graduate stands on a path. To the right, a miniature figure of a family celebrates. The board is filled with colorful tokens, including cars, houses, and money. The text 'You can't always choose what happens.' is overlaid on the image in a large, white, sans-serif font. At the bottom of the image, there is a caption: 'At every turn, choose how to view your circumstances.'

You DO get to choose what you walk with!
