Hey Ladies,

I greet you with a call that echoes from the heart of heaven: Girl, get up!

Rise up in faith. Rise up in hope. Rise up in the assurance of who God has called you to be.

My heart overflows with joy as I behold each of you gathered for such a powerful and purposeful conference. You come from different stories, backgrounds, gifts, and journeys. Each of you carries something unique—something God-breathed. Yet life has a way of weighing you down with challenges, distractions, and unexpected turns. But today, I encourage you to lean in... hold on to what is precious... and remember this call: Girl, get up!

This conference has been prayerfully designed with you in mind. This is your moment—a sacred space for refreshing, renewal, inspiration, and meaningful connection. It is an opportunity to pause, reflect, and be restored.

The world will always attempt to shape you into its image. It will suggest that you must conform, compromise, and shrink to fit its expectations. But you have been called to something greater. You were created to stand out, to walk boldly, and to live with purpose and intention.

Girl, embrace your now. This very moment in your life—yes, even with its imperfections—is part of a greater plan. Your now carries purpose. Your now holds power. Your now has the potential to impact your family, your community, and even generations to come.

So rise into who you are called to be. Walk forward with confidence, knowing that your journey is still unfolding and your purpose is still being revealed.

May this conference be a wellspring of healing for your heart, growth for your spirit, and transformation for your life. May you leave this place empowered, refreshed, and ready to move forward with boldness—walking with grace in your steps and renewed strength in your spirit.

And so I say to you with sincerity and conviction—

Girl!!!!!!!, GET UP!

In Confident Expectation,

Dr. Bobby L. Dukes

Pastor of Ned Branch Missionary Baptist Church

Praise The Lord

My Fellow Daughters of The King!

As it has been the previous three years, it is also this 4th year, a great and humbling honor to worship, grow, and heal with you at our Annual Women's Conference. My prayer is that as you come with hearts in expectation, the Holy Spirit reveal, heal and exceed your heart's expectation.

Come ready to have a life-changing encounter with God that engulfs your mind, body, and spirit. We pray you feel 'accepted in the beloved'—that this is space is safe, welcoming, and set apart for you to receive what God has specifically for YOU. I pray you laugh, cry, repent, seek help, form new bonds with your fellow sisters in Christ, and leave with just what God had here for you!

God's Blessings,

1 Lady st Shanikia L. Dukes

Ladies, thank you for attending this year's Annual Women's Conference, "Girl, Get Up!" I am truly honored that you have chosen to be a part of this special gathering. My prayer is that during this conference you were encouraged, empowered, and reminded of the strength and purpose that God has placed within you.

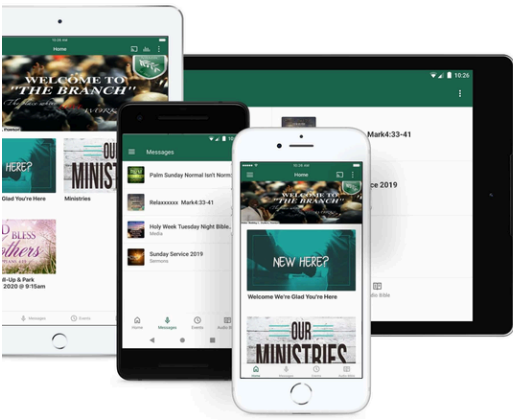

This conference was created with you in mind—to uplift, inspire, and equip women to rise above every challenge and walk boldly into their calling. I believe that something powerful happens when women come together in faith, unity, and expectation.

Thank you for being here and for helping to make this vision a reality. May you leave this conference renewed, strengthened, and ready to "GET UP" and move forward in all that God has for you.

With love and gratitude,
Debra Kearse Young
