"O taste and see that the Lord is good" Psalm 34:8

It is with deep gratitude and great joy that I write to you today. For several years now, you have faithfully walked alongside us, and your consistent support has left a lasting mark on our ministry. Over the past few months, this partnership has taken on a new dimension as you now support a study center established at the very heart of our local church, connected to a TMAI campus in Quebec. We wanted to share some updates with you and sincerely thank you for your commitment.

For the current winter session, we now have eight full-time students, including two new students who joined us recently. At the same time, 22 part-time students completed a first course in biblical counseling this past fall, and we will be offering a second course during the winter session. These numbers are more than administrative data; they testify to the work the Lord is accomplishing through His Word in the lives of those who devote themselves to it with seriousness.

The impact of this training goes far beyond the academic setting. We see students daily immersed in rigorous study of the Scriptures, seeking to know God more deeply and allowing the Word to transform them. One student expressed what he is experiencing during this season in the following way: "I truly give thanks to the Lord for this season of my life in which I am able to attend Bible school and become more deeply rooted in the Scriptures." This testimony captures well what we are observing: real growth in the knowledge of God and a deep attachment to His Word. We also recently had the privilege of welcoming Dr. Mark Tatlock, President of TMAI. His visit was a great blessing to our students and to our leadership.

The impact of the campus on our local congregation is significant. We feel deeply privileged to be able to offer, right here, bachelor's- and master's-level training of such high quality to those whom God is raising up within our church to serve His Church in Quebec and elsewhere in the Francophone world. In a context where laborers are few and challenges are many, this represents a tremendous grace.

And this is only the beginning. Already, we are looking to the future with hope. Two additional fulltime students are expected to join the program in the fall 2026 session. We pray that the Lord will continue to raise up faithful men and women, deeply anchored in the truth and marked by a zeal for the Gospel.

Brothers and sisters, you are true partners in the advancement of the Gospel. By supporting this study center, you are directly investing in the training of servants who, tomorrow, will proclaim Christ and cause the Gospel to shine forth in our province and far beyond. Thank you for being part of this ministry. Thank you for praying, giving, and encouraging. We give glory to God for you and rejoice in continuing this beautiful work together, for the glory of Christ.

In Christ,
Simon for the Ouellette family
