SMALL GROUP GUIDE

IN REPAIR

BIG IDEA

We can help repair the world's brokenness.

BIBLE

Acts 4:32–35; Galatians 6:9–10; Psalm 89:15

ABOUT THIS WEEK

Though the world seems so broken with problems too big to fix, we can be part of the solution. This week, we'll see how Jesus' followers shared what they had with those in need, making sure no one was left struggling. Their story reminds us that when we follow Jesus' example and put his love into action, we can help repair the world's brokenness.

DISCUSSION

- If you could fix one broken thing in your life or in the world, what would it be? Why?
- Do you prefer fixing things that are broken or starting something completely new? Why?
- How do you handle a problem that feels too big to fix?
- What are some examples of brokenness in the world or your own life that you've noticed recently?
- Why do you think the disciples caring for one another and their community helped spread the faith in ways that talking could not?
- Have you ever felt tired of doing the right thing? What helped you keep going?
- Read Psalm 89:15. How do you think spending time with God can prepare you to face the world's brokenness?
- When have you seen or experienced people taking care of each other in a really tough situation? What stood out to you about that?
- What specific gifts or talents do you have that could help make a difference in a broken world? What would it look like to put that into practice today?
- What is one way this week that you are going to partner with God to repair the world's brokenness?
