

CODY MOORE
Student Pastor

Hello Northside family! What a week! I have heard people call it icemageddon '21 or snowid '21. Whatever you want to call it, it was a challenge for most of us. I know it was a little difficult for us, but we should have remembered how giving and loving Northside folks are.

We ran out of propane and searched all over town with no success. I got a Facebook message saying that a family at Northside had some, and I could get both my bottles filled. Then we started hearing about people that still didn't have water. We offered as much as people needed. We had one taker so far.

The neat thing about the church is that we love one another, and are willing to help each other. I hope after this past Sunday's message that we are all encouraged to love one another. Remember love sacrifices, abides, and secures. When hard times come, know that your church is with you and ready to serve alongside you.
