Christmas: The Word Became Flesh

FRIDAY · DECEMBER 25
READ John 1:14-18; Luke 2:8-20

Today we celebrate more than the birth of a remarkable child. We celebrate the eternal Word made flesh, full of grace and truth. The Son came to reveal the Father, dwell among us, and accomplish the salvation we could never achieve. The shepherds heard good news of great joy; John tells us why that news is so extraordinary. The glory of God has been made known in Jesus Christ. Whether your day is loud or quiet, joyful or bittersweet, take time to look at Him. Gifts are wonderful, but they point beyond themselves to the greatest Gift. We have not been left to reach up to God on our own. In love, God came down to us. Behold the Savior. Worship the King. Receive His grace.

REFLECT

As you celebrate today, what will help you keep Jesus at the center of your gratitude and worship?

PRAY

Lord Jesus, we worship You, the Word made flesh. Thank You for coming to save us. May Your glory fill our hearts and homes. Amen.
