The Song of Mercy

TUESDAY · DECEMBER 8
READ Luke 1:46-55

Mary's song is full of praise because she knows that God has looked upon her with mercy. She rejoices in a Lord who overturns human pride, remembers the lowly, and keeps His promises. Mary's circumstances were not simple, but her heart was anchored in God's character. Worship does not require us to ignore the hardships in front of us. It teaches us to interpret those hardships in light of who God is. When anxiety narrows our vision to the next problem, praise lifts our eyes to the Lord who has acted faithfully across generations. Set aside a moment today to name specific evidences of His mercy. Thanksgiving is not denial; it is a way of remembering the truth.

REFLECT

What evidence of God's mercy can you name even if this season is difficult?

PRAY

Mighty God, fill our hearts with praise for Your mercy and faithfulness.
