1. Read Genesis 14:18–20. Abraham gave a tenth before any law required it. How does giving out of gratitude differ from giving out of obligation? Which better describes your giving?
2. Read 2 Corinthians 9:6–8. Paul emphasizes the heart of the giver rather than a specific percentage. Why do you think that is? Does that freedom feel helpful or challenging?
3. When it comes to giving, we can treat 10% as a rigid rule or avoid making any commitment at all. Which extreme do you lean toward? Is "the tithe is a target, not a tax" a helpful way to think about giving?
4. Read Galatians 6:6–10. How should we balance giving to the local church with generosity toward others? Do you naturally prioritize one over the other?
5. The big idea is that generosity is something you grow, and something that grows you. Have you ever seen giving change you, not just your bank account? What happened?
