FROM THE

Desk of the President

Kerry Allen

We are now well into the final year of my presidency at Louisville Bible College. Looking ahead for LBC, I couldn't be happier with the decision the Board of Regents made to call Dr. Terry Peer as the next President. Dr. Peer's relationship with LBC spans decades. Regardless of what role he has filled he has always excelled, and LBC has been blessed. What a great decision by the Regents!

Now, for me personally, it is my responsibility to lead LBC in the way that she will be in the best position she can be when President-Elect Peer takes over. Therefore, I must dedicate myself to continue to hold firmly to three pillars of institutional soundness which are essential to LBC thriving.

1. LBC must be faithful to God
   - Be true to the scriptures
   - Integrity in all things
2. LBC must be driven by her Mission
   - Every decision must be made in light of the Mission
   - Every program and course must fulfill the Mission
3. LBC must have a solid financial base
   - Operate in the black
   - Keep student costs affordable

For the past ten years God has blessed LBC because she has committed herself to operating on those pillars. As my tenure draws nearer to its close, I am convinced that items 1 and 2 are secure. Where I face the biggest challenge and NEED THE MOST HELP is item 3. We currently are operating in the black, and our costs are affordable.

When the baton is passed to Dr. Peer my goal is for LBC to be able to go forward with an emergency reserve that if disaster struck in some manner LBC could continue to operate for a year. That will require HELP, but it would be such a blessing for our next President. I trust there won't be any major disasters, but the reality is for LBC to grow it will take more money. I anticipate LBC will flourish under this next administration. I want to walk with her as she goes where God leads her next. Please join me in enabling LBC to reach new heights in fulfilling her mission.

Yours thru Jesus,

Kerry Allen

Periodically The Founder and Builder tries to introduce you to a member of our outstanding faculty and highlight a few "interesting and amazing" facts about the lives they live.

Meet Dr. Jason Anderson: Ministry, History, and a Little He-Man

Ask Jason Anderson about history, and you may want to settle in for a while.

As Vice President of Academic Affairs at Louisville Bible College, Dr. Anderson has a deep appreciation for the Restoration Movement and church history, but his interests go well beyond the classroom. He is also a passionate student of Revolutionary War history, an avid professional wrestling fan, AND a devoted He-Man and the Masters of the Universe enthusiast.

But perhaps the most important story behind Dr. Anderson is his own.

Jason describes himself as a "homegrown minister" from Falmouth, KY. Ministry runs deep in his family:

- ⇒ his grandfather was a deacon
- ⇒ his father an elder
- ⇒ Jason preached his first sermon at just 16 and was ordained at 24.

His childhood also gave him an early glimpse of what ministry looked like beyond the pulpit. Missionaries frequently stayed with his family, sharing meals around the table, stories, teaching, and fellowship.

Those experiences helped shape his understanding of ministry as a life of relationships, service, hospitality, and teaching.

That perspective continues to influence his work, where he is passionate about the mission of LBC: "to educate preachers and other Christian leaders for Christ's church."

Dr. Anderson's love of history also gives him a unique appreciation for the past. He knows much about the events that shaped the Restoration Movement, and he has a particularly impressive knowledge of Louisville Bible College's own history.

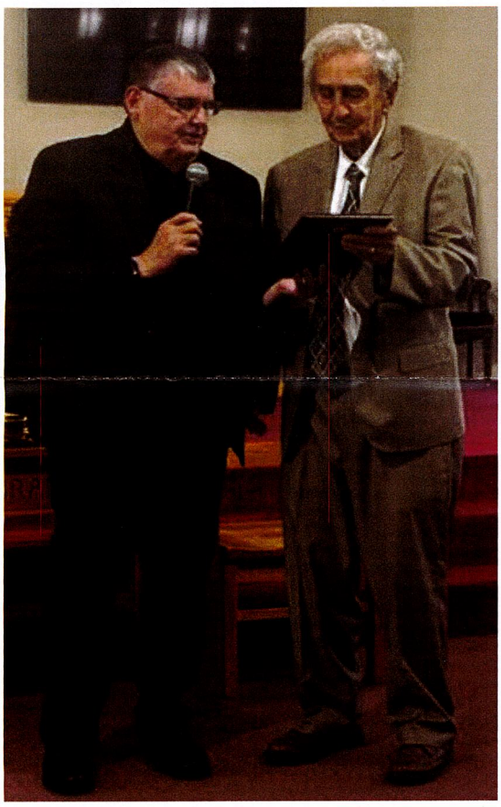

Whether he's discussing Restoration history, professional wrestling, or the adventures of He-Man, Dr. Anderson brings the same curiosity and enthusiasm.

At the heart of it all, though, is a desire to invest in others. The people who poured into Jason's life helped shape his calling. Today, he is helping do the same for the next generation of preachers and Christian leaders.

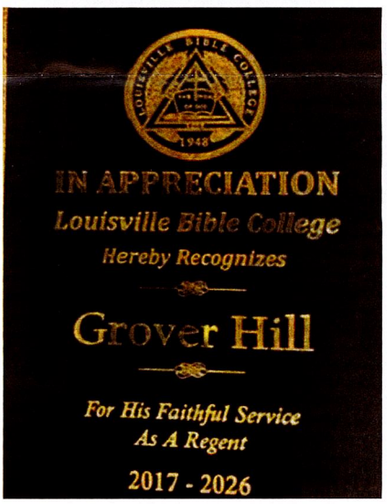

Speaking of the next generation, Jason and his wife, Maria, are the VERY proud parents of Jerrica, a happy, rambunctious 2026 Kindergarten graduate!

Press on Dr. Anderson! You are making a difference not only in Jerrica's future, but in the future of the preachers and leaders who receive rock solid Biblical education at Louisville Bible College.

On August 16, 2026, President Kerry Allen presented Grover Hill a plaque of appreciation for his years of faithful service to LBC as a regent during the school's most desperate need. May God bless him for putting his hand to the plow, not looking back, and pursuing the mission of Louisville Bible College, "to educate preachers and other Christian leaders for Christ's church."

Did You Know? LBC Can Come to You!

Louisville Bible College is passionate about teaching and training anyone with a desire to know and understand the truth of Scripture. That's right—ANYONE!

Louisville Bible College is bringing biblical education to churches and communities through Outreach Classes!

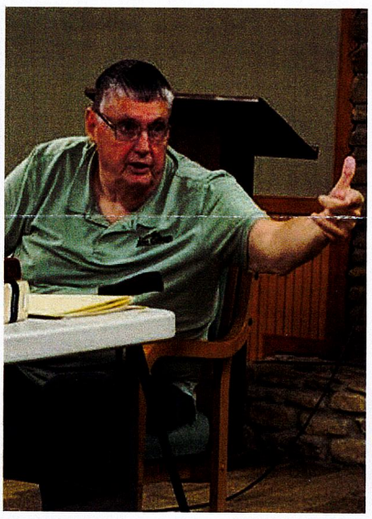

Here's how it works: LBC instructors come to your church's location for a six-week teaching session, meeting one night a week for two hours. Choose to take the class for college credit or simply audit it to grow in your understanding of Scripture.

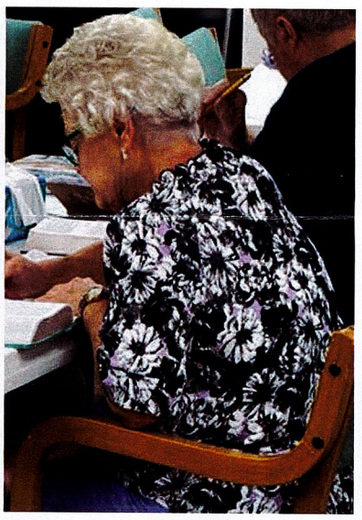

With multiple topics available and an affordable format, there's never been an easier way to bring quality biblical education to your own community.

Want to bring an Outreach Class to your church? Contact the LBC office to learn more!

Getting The Founder and Builder into your hands is truly a team effort. Each quarter, once the newsletters arrive from the printer, volunteers gather at LBC for a day of folding, inserting, labeling, sorting, and counting more than 2,000 newsletters in preparation for mailing.

LBC has been blessed time and again by folks who eagerly step up and say, "Yes! Count me in to help!"

Why such enthusiasm? Why all the smiling faces? Here are just a few comments from our wonderful volunteers:

- It has been our pleasure to help
- The lunches are "it"!
- The desserts are delicious!
- Let's do it again!
- I have loved the fellowship with everyone

Would you enjoy being part of the fun, fellowship, and meaningful service for the Lord? Please call the LBC office and let us know! Many hands truly do make light work…and Jeff Price's T-shirt says it best: We ROCK together!
