REVIEW last week:

Summary

What does it look like to place our hope fully in God when the world around us feels like it is unraveling? We are reminded that God did not call an emergency meeting over the events of this past week, or any week, because He is not surprised by anything that happens in this world. One of the most striking spiritual insights here is the intimacy of our relationship with this all-powerful God, a God who is sovereign over every ruler, every nation, and every circumstance. He is not a distant force. Through faith in Jesus Christ, He has become our Father, and we are His adopted children, crying out to Him with the closeness and trust of a child to a parent. When we grasp that truth, the anxiety and exhaustion we feel over worldly events begins to lose its grip. For those of us feeling worn down by the noise of the world, this is a deeply encouraging word that points us back to the only anchor that never gives way.

Key Points

- God is sovereign over all earthly events and rulers and has never needed to call an emergency meeting over the affairs of men or nations
- Earthly rulers and political figures are like grass that flourishes briefly and passes away, and the pendulum of politics never swings the nation back toward God
- Christians must gird up the loins of their minds, meaning they must discipline and focus their thinking on eternal truths rather than allowing worldly media and propaganda to fill and control their thoughts
- Being sober-minded means having a clear, uninfluenced mind capable of making right judgments and maintaining a biblical worldview
- Believers are called to holy conduct that is distinct and set apart from the world, reflecting the character of their holy Father

Key Passages of Scripture:

- Psalm 146:3-10
- Isaiah 40:21-31
- Psalm 90:2
- Jeremiah 1:9
- Jeremiah 1:17
- Colossians 3:1-4
