THE CULTURE IS FORMING OUR BOYS INSTEAD OF THE CHURCH.

You want to see boys grow into men who are spiritually formed in Christ. Look around, and it isn't happening. By age 13, over 90% of a person's core values and worldview are already set for life.

Boys don't drift into a lasting faith. Someone has to walk it with them, and the window is short.

WHY I STARTED CAMPFIRE

I feel the same ache you do, watching boys grow up shaped by everything except a faith of their own and wondering who will step in before it's too late. I wasn't disciplined with much intention growing up, until climbing Mount Rainier became the turning point of my faith. I started Campfire because I refuse to accept that the pattern has to continue.

Since then I've earned Wilderness Theology certification through Hillsdale College, trained with the Wilderness Ministry Institute, and been shaped by 18 years of being personally disciplined myself. A team of 22 prayer partners already stands behind this mission.

WHY THE WILDERNESS?

IT'S WHAT JESUS DID

Scripture is full of wilderness: the place where God forms people. Campfire teaches wilderness theology right where it was lived.

IT BRINGS A DAD AND SON CLOSER

A shared wilderness experience gives a son the chance to build trust with his earthly father and his heavenly Father.

IT'S A MISSING PIECE

Wilderness is largely absent from youth ministry today. Campfire puts it back at the center of discipleship.

$600 SENDS ONE DAD AND HIS SON THROUGH CAMPFIRE

Your gift helps fund our first cohort of 3 to 5 dads and their sons: four months, five steps, and a brotherhood that keeps going after the program ends.

$600

One dad and his son

THE CURRICULUM

Practicing the Way for dads and Wilderness Theology for students, so both grow side by side.

THE GATHERINGS

The Fire Hangout, the campfires, and the event space where the cohort comes together.

ONE DAD. ONE SON. MANY GENERATIONS.

Jesus invested in three, then twelve, then the many. Discipleship has always multiplied one life at a time. A boy who is disciplined well becomes a husband, a father, and an influence on everyone he meets, so a gift today reaches generations not yet born.
