Leaders are to not only report attendance of their regular group meetings, but are to also report on their group's participation in Night of Worship or some other event whenever that special event falls on the same day as their regular group meeting.

This report tells leadership about more than just attendance. It gives them an idea of family involvement, since the report includes "kids." It reveals how groups are participating together in special church events such as Night of Worship or Mega Sports Camp. It also allows leaders to share about good things happening, problems they need help with, needs for prayer, and how they are progressing in raising up other leaders so that more groups can be launched. This helps our coaches know how best to help their group leaders.

Our Group Coordinator, Dave McFadden, submits a weekly report to Pastors Cole, Jeff, and Bobby, giving an overall view of our Connection Groups ministry based on the reports submitted by our leaders. It tells of the total number of people involved overall and on each campus, as well as what percentage of the previous Sunday's worship attendance were in groups the following week.
