I. COMMITMENT TO YOUR PRIVACY: Hillside Counseling Center is dedicated to maintaining the privacy of your protected health information (PHI). PHI is information that may identify you and that relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health condition and related health care services either in paper or electronic format. This Notice of Privacy Practices (“Notice”) is required by law to provide you with the legal duties and the privacy practices that Hillside Counseling Center maintains concerning your PHI. It also describes how medical and mental health information may be used and disclosed, as well as your rights regarding your PHI. Please read carefully and discuss any questions or concerns with your therapist.

II. LEGAL DUTY TO SAFEGUARD YOUR PHI: By federal and state law, Hillside Counseling Center is required to ensure that your PHI is kept private. This Notice explains when, why, and how Hillside Counseling Center would use and/or disclose your PHI. Use of PHI means when Hillside Counseling Center shares, applies, utilizes, examines, or analyzes information within its practice; PHI is disclosed when Hillside Counseling Center releases, transfers, gives, or otherwise reveals it to a third party outside of the Hillside Counseling Center. With some exceptions, Hillside Counseling Center may not use or disclose more of your PHI than is necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the use or disclosure is made; however, Hillside Counseling Center is always legally required to follow the privacy practices described in this Notice.

III. CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE: The terms of this notice apply to all records containing your PHI that are created or retained by Hillside Counseling Center. Please note that Hillside Counseling Center reserves the right to revise or amend this Notice of Privacy Practices. Any revision or amendment will be effective for all of your records that Hillside Counseling Center has created or maintained in the past and for all of your records that Hillside Counseling Center may create or maintain in the future. Hillside Counseling Center will have a copy of the current Notice in the office in a visible location at all times, and you may request a copy or the most current Notice at any time. Whenever an employee or business associate arrangement involves the use or disclosure of your PHI, Hillside Counseling Center will have a written contract that requires the employee or business associate to maintain the same high standards of safeguarding your privacy that is required of Hillside Counseling Center.

The list will include the date of the disclosure, the recipient of the disclosure (including address, if known), a description of the information disclosed, and the reason for the disclosure. Hillside Counseling Center will provide the list to you at no cost, unless you make more than one request in the same year, in which case it will charge you a reasonable sum based on a set fee for each additional request.

Confidentiality & Records

Your communications with your therapist will become part of a clinical record of treatment, and it is referred to as Protected Health Information (PHI). Your PHI will be kept in a file stored in a locked cabinet in our locked office. We maintain a HIPAA secure environment. Your therapist will always keep everything you say confidential, with the following exceptions: (1) you direct your therapist to tell someone else and you sign a "Release of Information" form; (2) your therapist determines that you are a danger to yourself or to others; (3) you report information about the abuse of a child, an elderly person, or a disabled individual who may require protection; or (4) your therapist is ordered by a judge to disclose information. In the latter case, your therapist's license does provide him or her with the ability to uphold what is legally termed "privileged communication." Privileged communication is your right as a client to have a confidential relationship with a Licensed Professional Counselor.

Technology Statement

In our ever-changing technological society, there are several ways we could potentially communicate and/or follow each other electronically. It is of utmost importance to us that we maintain your confidentiality, respect your boundaries, and ascertain that your relationship with your therapist remains therapeutic and professional. Therefore, we've developed the following policies:

Cell phones: It is important for you to know that cell phones may not be completely secure or confidential. However, we realize that most people have and utilize a cell phone. Your therapist may also use a cell phone to contact you. If this is a problem, please feel free to discuss this with your therapist.

Text Messaging and Email: Both text messaging and emailing are not secure means of communication and may compromise your confidentiality. We realize that many people prefer to text and/or email because it is a quick way to convey information. However, please know that it is our policy to utilize these means of communication strictly for appointment confirmations (nothing that could be inferred as therapy). Please do not bring up any therapeutic content via text or email to prevent compromising your confidentiality. If you do, please know that your therapist will not respond. You also need to know that we are required to keep a summary or a copy of all emails and texts as part of your clinical record that address anything related to therapy.

Social Media: It is our policy not to accept requests from any current or former clients on social networking sites such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram, Pinterest, etc. because it may compromise your confidentiality. Hillside Counseling Center has a business Facebook page. You are welcome to follow us on any of these pages. However, please do so only if you are comfortable with the general public being aware of the fact that your name is attached to Hillside Counseling Center. Please refrain from making contact with us using social media messaging systems such as Facebook Messenger. These methods have insufficient security, and we do not watch them closely. We would not want to miss an important message from you.

Recommendations to Websites or Applications (Apps): During the course of treatment, your therapist may recommend that you visit certain websites for pertinent information or self-help. Websites and apps may have tracking devices that allow automated software or other entities to know that you've visited these sites or applications. Therefore, it is your responsibility to decide and communicate to your therapist if you would like this information as adjunct to your treatment or if you prefer that your therapist does not make these recommendations. In summary, technology is constantly changing, and there are implications to all of the above that we may not realize at this time.

Statement Regarding Ethics, Client Welfare & Safety

Hillside Counseling Center assures you that our services will be rendered in a professional manner consistent with the ethical standards of the American Counseling Association. Due to the very nature of psychotherapy, as much as we would like to guarantee specific results regarding your therapeutic goals, we are unable to do so. However, your therapist, with your participation, will work to achieve the best possible results for you. Please also be aware that changes made in therapy may affect other people in your life. For example, an increase in your assertiveness may not always be welcomed by others. It is our intention to help you manage changes in your interpersonal relationships as they arise, but it is important for you to be aware of this possibility nonetheless.

Background Information, Theoretical Views, & Client Participation

Information regarding your therapist's educational background and experience may be found on our website under their name. Please feel free to view that information at www.hillsidecounselingcenter.com. It is our belief that as people become more aware accepting of themselves, they are more capable of finding a sense of peace and contentment in their lives. However, self-awareness and self-acceptance are goals that may take a long time to achieve. Some clients need only a few sessions to achieve these goals, whereas others may require months or even years of therapy. As a client, you are in complete control, and you may end your relationship with your therapist/group leader at any point. In order for therapy to be most successful, it is important for you to take an active role. This means working on the things you and your therapist talk about both during and between sessions. This also means avoiding any mind-altering substances like alcohol or non-prescription drugs for at least eight hours prior to your therapy sessions. Generally, the more of yourself you are willing to invest, the greater the return. Furthermore, it is our policy to only see clients who we believe have the capacity to resolve their own problems with our assistance. It is our intention to empower you in your growth process to the degree that you are capable of facing life's challenges in the future without your therapist. We also don't believe in creating dependency or prolonging therapy if the therapeutic intervention does not seem to be helping. If this is the case, your therapist will direct you to other resources that will be of assistance to you. Your personal development is our number one priority. We encourage you provide feedback in this regard at any time. Our goal is to facilitate healing and growth, and we are very committed to helping you in whatever way seems to produce maximum benefit. If at any point you are unable to keep your appointments or we don't hear from you for one month, we will close your chart. However, reopening your chart is always an option.
