

Compass Community Church

Worship Team DNA

Vision, Mission, Values

- Vision Statement:
 - To create an atmosphere that is safe and secure for every person to experience the presence of God through everything that is done.
- Mission Statement:
 - To use the gifts that God has given us (less of us more of Him) in leading the people in the seats in giving their all in worshipping the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.
- Worship Team Values:
 - We Seek to Worship God – we seek to fall more and more in love with Jesus every time we worship. We provide a 15-20 minute worship set where we want people to have an experience with God through raising their hands, singing, closing their eyes, standing, crying or just sitting all to fall more and more in love with Jesus.
 - Our Words Matter- the words of our songs have life. Each song we use, we intentionally pick them because of the words they have in them. We want people to worship because of the words they sing not because how good the band sounds.
 - Our Living Matters - we seek to model after the life of Jesus in our daily living and life style. It's not about the show on stage but more about what God is doing in our lives through our serving and when all of the lights are off and no one is around.
 - We are Colorful - we provide a celebration presentation that is diverse through the people that make up the team, its speakers, music and videos we play.
 - We are a Team - we are one. We serve on many different teams but we are one. We serve together, laugh together, cry together, celebrate together and win together.
- Team Member Expectations:
 - Be Connected to God - have a rhythm for spending time with God. This would include reading your bible daily and have a daily prayer life. Consider the “bible app.”
 - Be On Time - be punctual and if you are going to be late, please inform your team leader as soon as possible.
 - Be Teachable - be open to feedback on areas of growth and improvement or drop balls.
 - Be Prepared - be ready and prepared to perform your role with excellence.
 - Be Flexible - be willing to change things up.
 - Be Present - when you are not scheduled to serve, continue to hold the value of attending church. Sitting in the seats gives you the opportunity to observe and see things that you would not usually see when serving.
 - Be the Part - strive to be the life that people see on Sunday mornings in your everyday life.
 - Be a part of the Big Church Community - be in relationship with others in the church. You will usually have a great connection with the celebration team because you know them. Be bold and build healthy relationships with others sitting in the seats.
 - BE Faithful, BE Available. HAVE Character, Have Culture, BE Teachable

We value the Compass culture and want each member to thrive as they serve and be a part of our community. Here are some of the things we are looking for team members to strive towards living out in their daily living:

- CHARACTER – Are they godly, humble, and servant-minded? Do they have a heart for God, a love for His church, a knowledge of His word, and a vibrant, real walk with Christ?
- CRAFT – Do they have a high quality of musical ability? Are they efficient on their instrument? Are they quick to adapt to musical changes and readjust their parts, or are they rigid and inflexible? Do they play well with the team? Do they listen to what others are playing and find parts that fit and compliment? Do they play what serves the song, or just play what they want? Are they simple and tasteful in their parts, or are they busy and distracting? Are they “tight” and locked in with the drums and other players? How is their timing? Are they able to play with a Click Track (aka: metronome)? Are they able to play many musical styles, or just one? For singers, how is their tone? How is their pitch? Can they sing harmony, or only melody?
- COMMITMENT– Are they constantly trying to get better as a musician? Are they practicing their instrument regularly, weekly, or not at all? Are they reading articles, watching videos, researching new gear, etc. to try and learn new techniques? Are they relentlessly pursuing growth and excellence? Are they committed to Compass Community Church as being their church? Are they showing up to church regularly, even on weeks they aren’t playing? Are they willing to help the team in other ways besides playing? Are they willing to play in venues besides Sunday morning? Are they coming to rehearsals prepared with their parts learned and ready? Are they on time or early to rehearsals, or constantly late? Are they quick to fulfill obligations and duties of being on the team? Do they show up to all mandatory team meetings? Do they cancel last minute on weeks that they are scheduled?
- COACHABILITY– Are they willing to take coaching and direction? Are they willing to change parts based on the desires of the leader? Is there a lack of receptiveness to input and direction? How do they respond to on-the-spot coaching during rehearsal? Do they apply and implement the ideas presented in the training material?
- CHEMISTRY – Musically, do they mesh well with the current team members? Does their style of playing fit the style of the Compass Community Church Worship team? Is their tone and style modern and cohesive with what we do at Compass Community Church? Relationally, do they get along with the other team members? Are they easy going? Do they cause conflict and confusion? Are they fun to be around?
- CHARISMA – Are they a natural leader on the stage? Do they have a natural and expressive stage presence? Are they “into” the music when they are playing and leading? Do they express joy, passion, and worship naturally and in a non-distracting way? Or are they bored looking, passionless, and unengaged?
- COMMUNICATION – Are they quick to respond to the Planning Center Scheduling emails? Are they quick to respond to texts, phone calls, and other emails? Do they read the Team Training emails? Do they text or call when they’re (occasionally) running late? If they have an issue, do they bring it up honestly and lovingly?

● LIFESTYLES OF WORSHIP

- Since God desires a life of worship from His followers, members of the Music Team must be consistently living out lifestyles of worship. This means the team member will be someone who seeks to bring God glory in every aspect of their life (in their relationships (Eph 4:2-3, 1 Co 6:18-20), in their media consumption (Phil 4:8), in their online behavior (Eph 5:3-4), in their church attendance (Heb 10:25), service, giving, etc). We will not settle for having someone on the Worship Team simply because they are a good (or even excellent) musician. Being a member of the Worship Team is a position of spiritual leadership within the church, since you are both shepherding people spiritually through music and setting an example for them of what a life of worship looks like. For this reason members will be expected to be strong examples of faith, love, life, speech and purity (1 Timothy 4:12). If a member consistently fails to live a life worthy of the calling of Christ, they will be asked to step down from the Worship Team.
- One of the main things we are looking for in Worship Team members is a humble “servant’s heart”. We want team members who are willing to serve our congregation, by doing whatever they need to do, or are asked to do, in order to help this congregation be strengthened in their relationship and worship of Jesus.

● SERVING THROUGH SIMPLICITY (STYLISTICALLY)

- The ultimate goal of the Worship Team is to get out of the way and help people fall more and more into a intimate experience with Jesus. The Worship Team should desire to be as un-distracting as possible while they lead so that people can be focused on Christ and not the band. For this reason we will strive for simplicity in our style, both in fashion and in music. Worship Team members will be expected to dress modestly and humbly, not wearing clothes that are overly revealing or flashy. On the musical side of things, we will strive for simplicity. Simplicity doesn't mean unskilled playing; quite the contrary, it means playing so well, so tightly, so naturally and organically that people forget that we're even on stage and are able to enter in to sing directly to their King. It means that we minimize any overly flashy and distracting musical parts and only play what helps people engage with the Lord. In essence it is about Him becoming greater and us becoming less (John 3:30). No egos, no agendas, just the team wanting to do whatever they must to help people encounter God and lift His name high. In order to accomplish this, it would be helpful to think musically in terms of textures and layers. We want each layer and texture to almost be unnoticeable on its own, but adding to the whole experience in a way that pushes people closer to their King.

● PLAYING SKILLFULLY

- Creating a seamless musical experience takes a lot of skill. We desire for the members of the Worship Team to be skillful musicians who consistently look to improve the talents God has given them. Indeed, the Lord Himself commands that we play skillfully for Him (Psalms 33:3). It will be expected of Worship Team members that they practice material on a weekly basis (outside of just Team practice) and that they seek out ways to continually improve their craft. We also hope to provide opportunities for conferences on an annual basis where team members will be encouraged to become even better musicians and team players. We want to strive to serve God and our congregation with excellence.

● THINK THEOLOGICALLY

- Besides playing skillfully, we want team members to think theologically. That is, we want them to have a proper understanding of the Biblical doctrines about God, creation, sin, salvation, the church, worship and more. Besides having team members who are theologically sound, we will strive to select songs that rightly teach and emphasize the truth of God’s Word in a thoughtful, accurate, and compelling way. Songs are one of the best ways to teach, and it is important that the partners of our church leave each week with songs of substance in their minds and mouths. Jesus said that the Father seeks worshipers who will worship Him in

Spirit and in TRUTH (John 4:22) and that if we are to worship Him, we MUST worship Him this way (v23).

- VOLUNTEER BASED

- The Compass Worship team is volunteer based and made up of committed members of Compass Community Church. Ephesians 4:11-13, and 16 states that God has given the church pastors, teachers, and leaders in order to “equip the saints for the work of the ministry” so that the whole body might be strengthened and grow into maturity in Christ. In other words, God has freely given gifts to members of His church so that they might freely use them to bless the other believers (1 Corinthians 12:7) and spur them on toward love and good deeds (Hebrews 10:24). This means we do not pay professional musicians to play. The Compass Worship team will be made up of godly, servant-minded, committed volunteers who want to help their fellow brothers and sisters worship Jesus fervently and passionately.

- OUR DRESS CODE

- 1 Corinthians 10:31 ³¹ So whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God.
 - Our worship team dress code is casual, polished, and modest. Because we serve in a visible ministry role, our clothing should reflect excellence, honor God, and set a positive example for the congregation.
 - Wear clean, neat, and well-fitting clothing.
 - Jeans are welcome if they are not ripped, excessively distressed, or overly tight.
 - For women, dresses and skirts should be approximately knee-length or longer.
 - For women, tops should provide appropriate coverage—avoid low necklines, exposed midriffs and sheer fabrics.
 - For men, wear loose clothing to avoid showing intimate areas.
 - Please do not wear:
 - shorts, sweatpants, athletic workout clothes, pajamas, or clothing with distracting graphics or messages that are not God centered while serving on stage.
 - Shoes should be clean, presentable, and safe for moving around the stage.
 - Choose clothing that allows you to worship comfortably without requiring frequent adjustment.
 - When in doubt, please check with the Worship Director before the service.
 - Our goal is not perfection or formality, but to dress in a way that keeps the focus on worship rather than on what we are wearing.
- Be reminded that you are on stage for everyone to see in the room and people all around the world through the service being broadcast on the international web.
- Also, please don't be discouraged or offended if a worship leader gently pulls you aside to talk about your outfit and asks you to choose something else next time.
