REVIEW

Have someone read the passage(s) out loud from the ESV translation or something similar. Reflect on any insights, questions, or parts that stood out from the text or the sermon. Then read the summary below.

We live on mission. As people who Jesus has redeemed, we live “sent” as his hands and feet, seeking to make new disciples and plant new churches. From the beginning, God's purpose has been to fill the earth with his glory through his people. Through Jesus, God has redeemed us and now sends us into the world to participate in his mission of making disciples. This calling isn't reserved for pastors or missionaries; it belongs to every follower of Jesus. We live out the gospel in our everyday relationships, invite others into the life of the church, and give away our people and resources to multiply disciples and churches.*

LEARN

These questions help us learn God's truth about himself, us, and our world

- Read John 20:21, Matthew 28:19–20, and Acts 1:8. What do these passages teach us about the mission Jesus gives his followers? What do they reveal about how we are to carry out that mission?
- The sermon traced God's mission from creation through redemption and into the sending of his church. How does understanding mission as something God has been doing from the beginning change the way we think about our role in it?
- Why is it so important that we see ourselves as part of God's mission in the world?
- Over the last 15 years, Redeemer has planted churches like Center Church Brenham, Soma Austin, Redeemer Hutto, and Redeemer Georgetown. Why is a culture of sending and multiplying healthy, even when it means losing people we love to other cities?

LIVE

These questions allow that truth we're learning to confront, encourage, and reshape our actual lives.

- Jesus says, “As the Father has sent me, even so I am sending you.” (John 20:21) How does it change your Monday-through-Friday mindset to view yourself as a “sent missionary” to your specific neighborhood or workplace?
- The sermon described how we can “lose the plot” when other priorities or personal agendas become more important than God's mission. Where are you most tempted to lose sight of God's mission in your own life? What do you think is underneath that temptation?
- Who is the person (or people) God has put in your life right now that you are actively praying for or attempting to disciple? How can this group pray for you as you seek to share the gospel with them?
- The sermon challenged us to “live out, invite in, and give away.” Which of these do you think comes most naturally to you, and which is most difficult? Why?

- How is the Holy Spirit confronting, encouraging, or reshaping you personally from this text and discussion - and how could you live differently this coming week in light of it?

PRAY

- Ways to pray:
 - Pray about one way God spoke to you tonight through His Word
 - Pray by name for one person you know who is far from God
 - Pray for personal needs of other group members
- Pray for this ministry area of Redeemer: Pray that we would be a people who live on mission.

5 GROUP DISCUSSION RULES

We want to be full of grace as we meet, deepening our relationship with one another and with Christ. These five values help us know our P.L.A.C.E. in our GC's and Huddles.

1. Pray - Prayer is a space for confession, struggle, and praise. Keep requests focused on yourself and your immediate family, so we can pray specifically and personally.
2. Listen - Be present and attentive. Share with humility, be mindful of time, and remember: silence is okay.
3. Apply - Answer honestly. Consider how God's Word speaks into your life, and what it might look like to respond.
4. Confess - Confession and repentance are signs of maturity. We meet one another with grace, not shame.
5. Encourage - Practical advice is helpful, but truth is better. Speak the gospel into each other's hearts and stories.
