ORDER OF WORSHIP

Virtual Worship Service
9:00 a.m.

8:55 – Five Minute Countdown
Welcome – Jonathan Friar
Song – When We All Get to Heaven
Prayer – Shane Fullerton
Song – In Need (Praise & Harmony)
"Resurrection is for Now" – David Anguish
Scripture – Acts 2:22-32 – Nathan Anguish
"Conquered the Grave"– Noel Whitlock
Song – I Will Rise
Communion – Jordan Guy
Song – The God of This City
Shepherd's Prayer – Kenneth Mills

BAPTISM

We rejoice! Isaac Baker was baptized Friday, April 3, by his father, Andrew Baker, at College Church.

LETTERS FOR AMBER GUYGER

The Rock House is currently collecting letters for Amber Guyger. They must be on white notebook paper or white copy paper only. Place them in the Original Rock House mailbox on the porch and they will mail them.

THANK YOU

Thank you so much for the love you have extended to us after Mom's passing, through prayers, calls, cards, texts, food and a beautiful plant. In this era of COVID19, you still managed to reach out to us and show your support. We are so blessed to be a part of God's family that meets here at College Church. We are so thankful.

Danny & Bernetta Crow

PRAYER & SYMPATHY

Louise Ganus is in the Crossing.
Jeff Montgomery's step-mom, Elizabeth Caughron Montogomery, passed away Tuesday, April 7 in Memphis. There will be a family memorial April 14 in Memphis

LAST WEEK

4/5/2020:
Worship—virtual service / Bible Classes —dismissed
Children's Worship — dismissed
Worship p.m. —dismissed / Worship 7:15 p.m. —dismissed

FINANCES

Budget for 4/5/2020.....$52,250.00
Giving for 4/5/2020.....$43,750.24
Budget through Week 32.....$1,510,000.00
Giving through Week 32.....$1,541,253.39

CONTACT INFORMATION

Office Hours: 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. M-F
Closed daily 12-1 p.m. through April 5
712 E Race Ave, HU Box 10798
Searcy, AR 72143
www.collegechurchofchrist.org
ccoc@collegechurchofchrist.org
or elders@collegechurchofchrist.org
501-268-7156 FAX: 501-268-2684
College/Community Outreach 268-4191

April 12, 2020

COLLEGE
CHURCH OF CHRIST

Intentionally connected to God, His Word, His world, and to each other.

Facebook Live streaming at 9:00 a.m., Sunday morning through April 19

Isolation

In a gathering of fewer than ten people, Noah and family were quarantined on a ship for one year. Joseph languished in an Egyptian prison for at least two years. While his son was ill, David refused to eat with anyone. Running from his enemies, Elijah hid in caves to avoid human contact. Paul was under house arrest for two years. Exiled to the island of Patmos, John spent his final days encouraging the faithful from afar. Jesus spent nearly six weeks alone in the desert and often sought moments by himself. Even when he craved company the most in the garden of Gethsemane, Jesus found his best friends asleep and thus had to pray alone.

While temporary solitude can be a spiritual blessing, humans are not meant to be alone for long. Scripture says as much: "Whoever isolates himself seeks his own desire; he breaks out against sound judgment" (Proverbs 18:1). "Two are better than one," says the writer of Ecclesiastes (4:9). Yet over and over in Scripture, the people of God have found themselves alone, isolated, and unsure of what would happen next. And again and again, God has been present. He did not prevent all their suffering, but He heard their prayers and brought them through. Even a forty-year banishment of the children of Israel eventually ended in deliverance.

Though we have tools to bridge the distance that our ancestors did not have, we are in a season of isolation. There is so much anxiety and so much fear. Thankfully, God has promised never to leave us or forsake us (Hebrews 13:5).

Paul perhaps voices best what we feel when we are apart from our brothers and sisters in the faith. In his first letter to the Thessalonian church, he wrote, "Brothers, when we were torn away from you for a short time (in person, not in thought), out of our intense longing we made every effort to see you . . . when I could stand it no longer, I sent to find out about your faith" (2:17—3:5). No doubt we have the same "intense longing" to be together, and probably just when we think we "can stand it no longer," deliverance will come.

Michael Claxton

A REPORT FROM THE CROSSING

Cathy Wood never expected to be working at a nursing home during a pandemic. In fact, when she moved to Searcy in 2010, she had just retired from 28 years of social work and never expected to re-up.

Six years ago, however, realizing she wasn't ready for retirement, she became the Social Services Director of Rehab at The Crossing, a facility with a staff of 154 and resident population of approximately 135.

This week she spoke about what it's been like since the facility banned all visitors three weeks ago. Sanitation efforts are obviously more stringent. For example, cards and letters are still welcome but are now opened and read aloud to residents by staff to avoid possible contamination.

The shutdown has also meant fielding a lot more phone calls from family members, some of whom in normal times visited every day. "They mostly want reassurance from someone who has actually laid eyes on their loved ones," she says.

Cathy is proud that her co-workers have gone the second mile to help residents adjust and cope: "I've seen them at their best in this crisis." The staff monitors each patient's emotional condition very carefully, and are creative in adapting activities to requirements of social distancing.

One popular pastime is hymn sing-alongs, now done with each resident hall rather than the full group. The old gospel tunes are comforting echoes of family and church.

Cathy points out that many of the residents are Christians who, if asked about the current threat, answer with familiar phrases: "God is in control." "I'm ready to go."

Their attitude has actually "had a calming effect" on her, helping relieve the burden of safeguarding vulnerable lives: "It strengthens my faith to see people of that age who are so at risk but so unafraid because they trust God."

Nevertheless, increased isolation has its dangers. She urges us to write or call College Church members who are in The Crossing. With advanced notice, the staff can even use donated iPads to set up FaceTime visits.

According to Cathy, some thwarted visitors simply stand outside a window and wave. Whatever it takes in these strange times.

ORIGINAL ROCK HOUSE NEWS

Todd & Debbie Gentry report that the Original Rock House is making online videos to provide homebound Harding students with Wednesday evening Bible class curriculum.

Todd and son Carson are finishing up six videos accompanied by Bible class material for the spring semester series called "Lessons from the Desert." Completed videos are sent to Home Group leaders who then use "Zoom" to show them as part of virtual classes. Todd says that the lessons have potential to reach as many as 2,000 HU students.

Debbie and Carson are also collaborating on videos for her Wednesday evening "Just Girls" series. These lessons will provide her 70 students with the remainder of the spring curriculum.

Meanwhile, as Sunday approaches, Original Rock House is calling on volunteers to help prepare "Easter Lunches" for widows who don't have family close by. The meals will be delivered on Saturday.

The ministry expresses its gratitude to the church members who work with them to help others, especially in this crisis.

CLASS OPPORTUNITIES

An eight-week, online class called "Studies to Make Disciples" begins on Monday, April 20, at 7 P.M. A second section of the class starts on Tuesday the 21st, also at 7. Each section will be limited to 8 participants. Those interested should contact the church office (501-268-7156) or Steven Yeakley (501-473-0218), and come by the church office any morning next week from 8-12 to pick up a book. Come learn from an evangelistic series that has already trained 20 College Church members (adults, HU students, and teens)!

WEDDING SHOWERS

Please join us in celebrating the wedding shower of Halle Maddox and Grant Smith on April 26, 1-3:30 p.m. at the home of Amy Koch, 171 Virginia Way. In lieu of the traditional wedding shower, we are hosting a drive-through shower. Gifts purchased ahead of time can be sent to the Koch's house, or you can drive through and deliver your gift to the bride and groom that day. Halle and Grant are registered at The Boutique, Target, and Amazon. Halle is the daughter of Brian & Amy Maddox, granddaughter of David & Genny Lawyer.

We want to celebrate the upcoming wedding of Carlee Freeman and Carson Gentry, son of Debbie & Todd Gentry. Please join us for a drive-through and front-porch wedding shower, on Sunday, April 26, 1-3:00 p.m., at the home of Patty Ganus, 14 Silver Oak Dr. Gifts can be purchased by phone at the Boutique 268-3434, online at Dillards, Target & Zola. Gifts early please, if convenient.

DIRECTORY CHANGE

CHANGE OF ADDRESS:

David & Leah Burks 509 East Center Ave.