COLLEGE
CHURCH OF CHRIST

Intentionally connected to God, His Word, His world, and to each other.

Young at Heart: Rising to the Challenge

The past few months of living in a pandemic have been a challenge, requiring all of us to adapt. At College Church, our ministries have had to rise to this new challenge, and none more than Young at Heart.

Tracy Bailey leads Young at Heart, a program designed to minister to the needs of the widows at College Church. It keeps them involved with other widows and their church family. Tracy's love for these ladies is evident when she talks about her work: it is where her passion meets ministry. Her greatest concern is that one of these ladies gets inadvertently overlooked. She wants them all to feel loved by their church family.

Young at Heart activities typically include monthly birthday luncheons and periodic small fellowships so the ladies can get to know one another better. Tracy also coordinates volunteers to provide additional contact through calls, cards, or visits.

However, COVID-19 suddenly brought the weekly visits and fellowship to a halt. To provide for the relational needs of these ladies, Tracy had to focus on other avenues of contact, drastically increasing the use of cards and check-in calls to make sure the physical and emotional needs of the ladies are met.

In addition, volunteers have been providing some assistance for grocery shopping and errands. Fortunately, many of the ladies have family, friends, and neighbors who have been helping out as well. Tracy says several of our members have "really stepped up to check in more often on numerous ladies in our program."

I asked her what we can do to support this ministry. She says the ladies are in need of companionship and conversation. With COVID response entering new phases, some feel comfortable with porch visits or drive-up visits. She encourages us to call one of our widows or widowers just to say hi and to see if they need any help. If visiting isn't an option for you, cards remain a great way to show you are thinking of someone. Delivering food occasionally might also be a nice gesture.

If you don't know who to contact, Tracy is happy to help! Just send her an email at txmom2hm@gmail.com. This pandemic may be with us for a while; let's not let it outlast our determination to stay connected to our widows.

BIBLE STUDY

John W. Smith will be leading a weekly Bible Study Discussion Class in Room 100 on Tuesday evenings beginning July 28. Class time is 6:00 p.m. Please remember that face masks MUST be worn by anyone 10 years or older at all times while inside the building, and we ask you to observe social distancing guidelines at all times. The class will be limited to 50 people. Please call the church office to register.

SCHOOL SUPPLY DRIVE

We are still accepting monetary donations for this year's school supply drive. You can donate through the church office by cash or check, or through the on-line giving link. We need help Friday, July 31, to move the supplies from the College Church to Hawkins Dr, and then to stuff the backpacks at Hawkins Dr. Then, Saturday, we need help distributing the backpacks in a drive-thru format. All volunteers will need to wear a mask. Please consider helping. Thank you in advance. If you have any questions about this year's event, please contact Doug Langston at 501-230-3164.

L2L PREPARES FOR 2020-21 EVENTS WITH NEW LEADER

After two years of heading up the College Church chapter of Lads to Leaders, Brett Watson recently passed the torch to Trey Reely, who has written this announcement about the organization:

"Lads to Leaders (L2L) started with a group of eight boys in 1968 and has grown into an organization comprised of over 20,000 young men and women. Its record of building strong, faithful, and committed Christian leaders is unparalleled in our brotherhood. College church has been a part of L2L for many years, and this upcoming year will be no exception. Please consider making L2L part of your family's plan to grow spiritually during the upcoming months and years. There is literally something for everyone in Lads to Leaders. There are non-competitive as well as competitive events, year-round events, pre-convention and convention events for children from kindergarten through adult. There are also events for special needs kids. Participants are able to use their talents in areas of leadership, oral Bible reading, puppet theater, song leading, speech, art, debate, Bible Bowl, and more. Be on the lookout for more information as our program is rolled out in future months. L2L may look a little different this year because of COVID-19, but it will go on!"

The congregation owes Brett a debt of thanks for his leadership and welcomes Trey, who has established himself as an excellent and caring teacher, as he begins his new role. May God continue to bless L2L.
