Jesus,
You know what happened to me. You know the pain I carry and the wounds that have not healed. I confess that I have been holding on to this hurt, and I struggle to let it go. I believe that you are my Savior, and I trust you to make me whole. Heal the places in my heart that have been wounded. Give me your grace to forgive, even while I am still healing. And if this pain returns, help me bring it to you again. Jesus, I am ready to give you what I cannot carry. Amen.
