

*“Do all the good you can, by all the means you can,
in all the ways you can, in all the places you can,
at all the times you can, to all the people you can,
as long as ever you can.”
—John Wesley*

John Wesley, the 18th century founder of the Methodist movement in England penned these memorable lines that still resonate strongly with us today.

Joyful giving from the heart — of ourselves, our resources, and our time — is a goal and lifestyle we embrace at Cary Presbyterian Church. Every act of our giving, whether large or small, reflects the light of Christ and spreads hope throughout our community.

We invite you to embrace this vision of living generously and consider how you might share the gifts God has entrusted to you. Hebrews 13:16 reminds us that doing good works and sharing our resources is pleasing to God.

The CPC website at CaryPresbyterian.org contains a wealth of information on the many ways your financial gifts and volunteer efforts support our church ministries and missions outreach.

If you prefer to give digitally, as many increasingly do, you can do so easily and securely on the church website. The website's Give tab contains a sub-menu with an online pledge form.

We also encourage you to consider increasing your pledge by 3% to help us balance the budget for 2027. These additional funds will be used to meet projected increases in church expenditures and community needs.

Please return your pledge commitment to the church office, the Generosity box in the Narthex, or online through the church website by Sunday, November 8.

With gratitude and blessings,
