Putting it into Practice: Generosity

This week, take an intentional step toward generosity. If you've never given financially, consider setting aside a portion of the next money you receive to give to your church, a ministry, or someone in need. If you already give regularly, look for an additional opportunity to bless someone. Generosity can also include offering your time, attention, or practical help. Whatever your circumstances, let your generosity remind you that everything you have belongs to God and that your ultimate security rests in Him, not your possessions.
