A great group of kids participated in the Bible Bowl in Cookeville this past weekend. They studied the last 30 chapters of the book of Genesis, competing with many other teams from different congregations and states. Sarah Jackson got an award for scoring over 90 points. Carter Cocke received an award for participating for 10 years. Encourage your kids to get involved in Bible Study and join the competition. Ages 8-18 can participate. Next year's study will be the book of JOHN.

Ruins One Dream But Makes Another

Timothy had dreams of winning a medal in the Olympics. His older sister was a champion swimmer who had made it to the 1988 Summer Games in Seoul. He was a standout swimmer with a great shot of making the 1992 games when tragedy struck. Hurricane Hugo hit his home of Saint Croix in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Among the massive devastation was the only Olympic-sized swimming pool on the island. With the local water too shark-infested to swim, he had nowhere to train. The next year his mother died and the promise to her to graduate college made his Olympics crumble. He would never swim competitively again.

He would, however, win a medal in the Olympics. You see the loss of the swimming pool led him to the basketball court and the attention of one coach who gave him a chance to come to Wake Forest. There, his game blossomed. Tim Duncan would go on to win five NBA championships, two MVPs and yes, an Olympic medal.

Every new beginning comes from some other beginning's end.

In the Bible, we see many of the people of God in the midst of tragedy that seems like the end of their hopes and dreams. Think about Joseph, Paul, David, and Noah. The same is true for us. There are times when we seem beset by problems, surrounded by adversaries, in harm's way with little hope. Yet God is not done with us.

As Paul explains in Romans 8:28, "And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose." He can take the heartbreak and tragedy and shape it into something better.

In Chirstian Love, Gilp & Rita Daugherty

Words cannot express the gratitude I feel for all that my church family does for the MAGI program. Donations of money, toys, & school supplies are only a few. Special thanks to the Dorcus group who sewed dresses and to the sisters in Christ who gathered together to make jewelry. kindness is never forgotten and a helping hand never goes unnoticed. May God bless each person who helped.

Sixty years ago, AGAPE was established to help children experience the love of Christ through Christian homes and caring relationships. AGAPE continues that mission by providing adoption, foster care, counseling, and family support services throughout middle Tennessee. They are celebrating their 60th anniversary with a 60 Churches for 60 Years special contribution on Sunday September 27. We will be one of the 60 churches. If you wish to participate, please note AGAPE on your contribution and place it in one of the special collection baskets that will be provided.

Several of our ladies enjoyed a great weekend in Pigeon Forge at the Transform Ladies Conference. Hearing speakers like Celine Sparks and JJ Davenport and others and beautiful female voices all singing praises to God. Plan to be a part of this group next year on Sept. 10-12, 2027.

"PRIDE HEARS A SERMON
AND THINKS, 'I KNOW THIS ALREADY.'

humility hears a sermon and thinks, 'i need to hear all of this again.'

Psalm 25:9 Hiram Kemp

There is a big difference between attending a church and belonging to one.

Attending means you notice what is missing.
Belonging means you feel responsible for it.

Attending says, "They really need more people serving."

Belonging says, "Maybe I can help."

Attending says, "The singing could be a lot better."
Belonging says, "Who could I encourage?"

Attending says, "Nobody really connects here."
Belonging says, "We are having people over Friday."

That perspective changes how you see everything.

The church stops being "them."
It becomes "us."
