Loving the Lost Through Prayer:
Week # 11 Xaracuu of New Caledonia

The 7,000 Xaracuu (sha-ra-KOO) people live on the South Pacific Island of New Caledonia. They work as woodcarvers or weavers and are generally sea-oriented people because of the year-round mild climate. They are predominately Roman Catholic but blend this with traditional spiritual practices such as worshiping their ancestors and sacred mountains, rivers, and trees. They need someone to share with them the good news of salvation by grace through faith. They need help to see their own discontentment and to learn how to have a personal relationship with Christ – knowing that only He can fill their emptiness.

Let’s Pray: Pray God will make Himself known among the Xaracuu and change their lives, setting them free from bondage to traditions and rituals.
