In the Spotlight...

CONNECTION & DISCIPLESHIP COMMISSION

The Connection and Discipleship Commission offers guidance to the discipleship and relational connectedness for those who consider College First their church home. This commission oversees the intentionality of adult discipleship from the first moments someone connects with the church to the long-term spiritual growth of each person. Discipleship happens through organized moments, but also through natural conversations and relationships. This group oversees the small group ministries of the church, including mid-week groups, Sunday morning classes and short-term courses. The group also promotes opportunities for folks to connect naturally, such as through the church picnic on Pentecost. Creating environments where meaningful conversations can take place is also a part of this commission. The team has previously updated spaces for small group gatherings and casual conversations and continues to update other spaces within the building that promote discipleship. The group continually seeks the Lord's direction on how those at College First may grow in their relationship with Jesus.
