Log off. Kick on. Don't miss it!

Rules for each game:

- Kicking the ball over the short fence in an automatic single
- Kicking the ball over any of the other fences in fair territory in an automatic home run
- Any ball that bounces over the fences in an automatic double
- Teams must keep the same kick order for each inning

- The kicking team and Fielding teams will switch every 3 outs or 10 runs
- If a kicking team is down by more than 10 runs they may score up to 10 runs over the opposing team's score
- A base runner can be declared out in several ways: they are tagged by a ball when not on base, they are hit by a thrown or kicked ball shoulders and below, or the fielder tags the base they must tag before the runner gets there.
- If a ball is thrown at a baserunner and they are hit in the head, they are safe at the base they were running to and are awarded an extra base also. (If you were running to second and are hit in the head with a thrown ball, you get to go to third base.)
- There is no stealing. A Baserunner may leave their base once a ball is pitched.
- Ties will be settled in a lightsaber battle.
