Bibles International (a ministry of Baptist Mid-Missions) is working on a revision and reprint of their "Mnema" Bible translation. There have been a various Mnema translations of the Old and New Testaments going back to the 1920s. After over 20 years of work, BI's team of national translators published a new edition of the Mnema Bible in 2010. Because of changes in the Mnema writing system, younger believers (including some pastors) could not read the 2010 edition, so in 2022 they released a version using Roman script. This version turned out to be very popular and sold out quickly. This week's Sunday School Missionary offering will go towards funding a Bibles International project to make some minor revisions and publish more copies to meet growing demand amongst not just the Mnema people but also neighboring tribes who speak the Mnema language.
