Covenant Impacts Charlotte (CIC)

SIGN-UPS ARE OPEN! Project Days: November 10 - 15

Covenant Impacts Charlotte will be five days long, with small group projects beginning on November 10, in service to our nonprofit partner sites. On Commitment Sunday, November 15, we'll enjoy a meal after worship, then serve together across the city. Wear your project clothes to worship! Write "CIC" on your WRC to receive the project sign-up link.

Book Study:
How the Word Is Passed by Clint Smith

Sundays, November 8–29, 10:45 a.m., Fellowship Hall 207 A&B

Join us for a four-week study of Clint Smith's bestselling book, How the Word Is Passed, as we explore selected chapters and engage in meaningful conversations about history, memory, and the ways the past continues to shape our present. We also look forward to welcoming Clint Smith to Covenant in January! Books are available for purchase.

echoes of a generation

Sunday, November 8, 4:00–6:00 p.m., The Pauline Tea-Bar Apothecary

Join us for an afternoon exploring the theme of ancestry—the stories we inherit, the people who shape us, and the ways those stories continue to live through us. This gathering will also introduce the work of Clint Smith, an upcoming speaker at Covenant. Together, we'll reflect on the connections between our histories, identities, and communities.

Thanksgiving Dinners at Moore Place & The Rise on Clanton

November 23 & 24

Help Covenant continue a cherished tradition of celebrating Thanksgiving with our friends at Moore Place and The Rise on Clanton. Volunteers are needed to prepare food, deliver items, and serve dinner. Aluminum pans and lids are available at the Mission and Outreach shelves in the Welcome Center. Write "Thanksgiving" on your WRC to receive the volunteer sign-up link.

Charlotte Uncovered: History, Race & the Stories We Carry

November 11, 6:30 p.m., Room 203

Meck Roots and the Committee on Sacred Relationships present Charlotte Uncovered: History, Race & the Stories We Carry, a four-week series exploring the rich and complex history of Mecklenburg County. Through research, storytelling, and conversation, we'll uncover stories of the people, places, and communities that have shaped our region, bring overlooked histories to light, and consider how our past continues to shape Charlotte today.

Reading The Bible For All Its Worth

November 11; 6:30–7:30 p.m. in FH 207

The Bible is full of stories we think we know, passages that challenge us, and words that take on new meaning in different seasons of life. Join us for a four-week Bible study as we explore four familiar biblical stories, looking beyond the interpretations we've often been taught to discover new layers of meaning and fresh insights. Along the way, we'll wrestle with passages and explore practical tools and strategies for reading Scripture with curiosity and finding meaning in its ancient words. Led by Grace Lindvall, Associate Minister of Education, and Cedric Lundy, Seminary Intern.

TLC Presents: Aging in Charlotte — Your Questions Answered

Wednesday, November 11, 10:30 a.m. fellowship, 11:00 a.m. program, FH Main Hall

Navigating the aging process can bring many questions. How do you plan for future care needs, choose an assisted living facility, or find support as a caregiver? Join TLC for an informative presentation exploring care management, healthcare advocacy, long-term care planning, and resources for caregivers. Our presenter, Susan Ferone, is a professional care manager, Licensed Clinical Social Worker, and longtime Covenant member and Elder. Come learn, ask questions, and discover resources to help you and your loved ones plan for the future. To RSVP, write "TLC" on your WRC.

Deck the Table: A Christmas Craft Night

Thursday, November 19, 6:00 p.m., Fellowship Main Hall

Join Covenant's Women's Ministry for a festive evening of creativity, Christmas cheer, and fellowship! Enjoy heavy hors d'oeuvres while creating a beautiful Christmas tree centerpiece to take home or lend to the church for the holiday season. Feel free to bring old costume jewelry or anything that sparkles to add a little extra holiday magic! Cost is $5 per person. Come ready to craft, connect, and celebrate the season together. To RSVP, write "Deck the Table" on your WRC.
