Let Everything That Has Breath Praise the Lord

Rebecca Johnston

During the first week of June, I had the privilege to be part of our Summer Music Activity for Kids (SMAK). What I love about this program is that the musicals we choose are filled with songs containing Scripture and biblical truths that once learned, stay in the hearts of kids for a lifetime. The music of this year's show was no exception, but one song in particular stood out, especially as we focus on the book of Psalms this summer. The final song, "One More Voice," directly quotes the entirety of Psalm 150 while also stating, "I'll be one more voice to praise Him, one more instrument that plays, one more creature from the earth to sing. There ain't no doubt about it, I'll worship all my days."

As the kids sang through these lyrics and through the words of Psalm 150, what struck me is that after 149 other chapters, the book of Psalms ends with a simple but powerful command, "Let everything that has breath praise the Lord."

This declaration is a fitting finale to the book. The Psalms acknowledge every season of life - joy and sorrow, confidence and doubt, victory and defeat. They even remind us that through each of these seasons, God welcomes our honest prayers. But after all the highs and lows, where we end is with praise to the Lord simply because He is the giver of life and the reason we take each breath. Praise is not reserved for life's easy moments. Rather it is an act of faith that declares God's goodness, faithfulness, and power through every situation.

I cannot tell you the immense joy it brought to listen to over 100 first through sixth graders use the breath God gave them to praise Him and proclaim that they will worship Him all their days. I pray that the truth of those words remains in their hearts. I hope that we will all join in the chorus of Psalm 150. May we come together with all creation and be "one more voice" that praises the Lord all the days of our lives.

An Amazing Week

Our kids had an amazing week of summer music camps! We had over 190 kids from three years old to sixth grade! PreSMAK presented "PJ Party: Prayers to Jesus" on Wednesday, then SMAK and SMAK Jr finished the week on Friday with a great performance of their musical "The Star Factor: Many Gifts, One Voice." It takes a village to make something like SMAK possible, and we want to thank everyone that participated in the week by volunteering, giving, providing pies for Friday night, and so many other things. It was a great way to kick off the summer!

If you are interested in going to Guatemala with us this fall, October 26-30, please attend a planning meeting today, June 14 at 1:30 p.m. in the Conference Room.

Getting to Know You

New Members of South Tulsa

Welcome to Caleb and Jesseka Womack who recently joined the church! Jesseka was born in Texas and spent her first five years living there. At age six, her family moved to Central Asia to do mission work for 5½ years. After serving there, they moved to McAlester, OK. She graduated with a degree in Early Childhood Education from Southeastern Oklahoma State University. Caleb grew up in the Okmulgee/Morris area and his family moved to Bixby his senior year of high school. He graduated from Morris High School and attended OSUIT. He earned his degree there as a Ford Auto Technician.

Caleb and Jesseka met at a Bible study at Caleb's pastor's house and were married in 2017. They moved to the Tulsa area in 2025. They have a daughter, Tobi Faye, who will start first grade and a son, Conner, who will start Pre-K in the fall.

Caleb worked for Bill Knight Ford after graduating and then made the move to RC Auto Specialists. Jesseka has worked with kids most of her adult life, working with Pre-K and then teaching kindergarten. This coming school year, she'll step into an admin role to be a reading interventionist and instructional coach.

Jesseka is a collector of hobbies! She enjoys sewing, hand embroidering, painting, and anything else crafty. Caleb is an outdoorsman! He loves fishing, kayaking, and started doing leatherwork a few years ago. Tobi loves anything crafty like her mom, and Conner is all play! The kids love being involved in music and missions, and Caleb and Jesseka have been visiting the young professional's class with her sister, Hannah.
