SMALL GROUP QUESTIONS:

1) Israel was told to remember what God had done before stepping into an uncertain future. What is something God has done in your life that you need to remember right now? How could you become more intentional about remembering God's faithfulness?

2) Is there an area of your life where it is easier to say you trust God than to actually obey Him? What would trusting Him enough to obey look like?

3) Sometimes Israel's obedience meant going, and sometimes it meant staying. Which one describes what faithfulness requires of you right now? Is God calling you to take a step, or simply to keep faithfully doing what He has already given you to do?

4) Israel had the cloud to show them when to move and when to stay. We don't have a cloud, but God has given us His Word and His Spirit. What is one area of your life that needs to be shaped more by God's Word? What might that actually change?

5) Jesus' call is simply, "Follow Me." Where is following Jesus difficult for you right now? What would it look like to follow Him there even if you cannot see where the road leads?

6) "Grace precedes obedience." Where are you most likely to slip into trying to earn God's favor rather than living in response to the grace you have already received? How would remembering the gospel change the way you approach that part of your life?
